

the Auburn Alumnews

AUBURN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

OCTOBER, 1959

AUBURN, ALABAMA

One Of Them Will Reign—Finalists in the Auburn contest for Miss Homecoming 1959 are (l. to r.) Carol Covey, Montgomery; Peggy Jo Forehand, Hartsboro; Ivy Mauk, Montgomery; Sandra Ross, Phenix City; and Ann Thomley, Dothan.

Extension County Workers Pursue Graduate Studies Enthusiastically

"Alabama Agricultural Extension workers are preparing to do a better job of Extension education by first becoming better educated themselves," says Extension Training Specialist Ralph Jones '35. During the past academic year almost 50 per cent of the State's 211 county agents and assistant agents pursued post-graduate studies in subjects directly related to their work.

The majority of the agents engaged in advanced study were enrolled at one of the five training centers—Auburn, Crossville, Winfield, Camden, and Headland—for Auburn's new Master of Agriculture program. However, eleven county workers attended regional extension summer schools at out-of-state universities, and five are on study leave for full-time, on-campus graduate work at Auburn and other universities.

In addition to formal graduate studies, county agents and their assistants and home demonstration agents and their assistants participated in in-service workshops, conferences, and training schools in 68 different subjects. Each county extension worker participated in one or more of these in-service programs directed by API Extension Specialists.

Training Specialist Jones reports that 101 Extension workers enrolled for one or more courses offered under the Master of Agriculture program. Several agents have already completed five courses. Enrollment during the first year of the program included 81 county and assistant county agents, 15 home demonstration agents and assistants, and five Extension specialists.

County and assistant county agents are all working toward a Master of Agriculture degree. Home demonstration and assistant home demonstration agents are pursuing those courses that will apply on requirements for a master's in home economics. Specialists, who are encouraged to earn graduate degrees in their specialty area, are taking those courses that will broaden their knowledge of fundamental agricultural and educational problems.

Training Specialist Jones notes with pride that the majority of agents in the Master of Agriculture program are working diligently and enthusiastically.

Enthusiasm generated in the program has resulted directly in study leave and full-time, on-campus graduate study for at least two assistant agents and one specialist.

Courses offered at training centers during the past year were Farm Management and Organization, Weed Identification and Chemical Control of Weeds, Soil Management, Seminar in Group Discussion Techniques, Audio-Visual Materials, Chemical Control of Insects, and Philosophy and Interpretation of Agricultural Research.

For Excellent Performance—John W. Gresham, Auburn aeronautical engineering co-op student (left above) recently received a performance award certificate and a $100 award check for "sustained superior performance as a student trainee, or co-op student," with the Army Rocket Guided Missile Agency at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville. Dean of Engineering Fred H. Pumphrey (right) and Aeronautical Engineering Head Professor Robert Pitts are doubly proud because the citation with the award lauded both young Gresham and the engineering school responsible for his training.

To Fulfill a Dream of Excellence—

Alumni Officers Favor Development Program

The Auburn Board of Trustees unanimously adopted a privately-financed development plan for Auburn after the proposed program had received the approval of Alabama Governor John Patterson and the unqualified endorsement of the Executive Committee of the Auburn Alumni Association. The Board took the action at a special meeting here on Oct. 9 and authorized President Ralph B. Draughon to initiate the plan. It further authorized Dr. Draughon to retain G. A. Brakeley and Co., Inc., as fund-raising counsel.

Present at the meeting as Ex-Officio Chairman of the Board, Governor Patterson expressed hearty approval of the proposed program and pledged full support to the Trustees and the API Administration in the undertaking.

The Board then requested a formal expression from the members of the Alumni Association Executive Committee. Alumni President Edmund C. Leach '15 called Executive Committee members into a brief private session to check their sentiments and returned with a report that the group "unanimously endorses the proposed program and will enthusiastically support the Trustees and the Administration in the undertaking of it."

After Mr. Leach's report the Board immediately announced its affirmative decision.

Speaking informally later, Alumni President Leach said, "Members of the Executive Committee are confident that Dr. Draughon, his administrative assistants, and the Board of Trustees will receive the full support of Auburn alumni. We have long been keenly aware of the abiding devotion of all Auburn alumni to our Alma Mater. All of us have recognized Auburn's need for additional capital funds and for a continuing endowment to enable the institution to establish and maintain a program of the highest excellence. With this opportunity before us, we are certain that alumni will not only give generously but also work diligently to obtain other gifts as the program develops."

Other Executive Committee members echoed Mr. Leach's sentiments and one of them said, "Initiation of a development program marks the beginning of the fulfillment of a dream for Auburn."

Executive Committee members present in addition to President Leach were George Thornton Nelson '38, Frank H. Hawthorne '46, Ben S. Gilmer '26, Dr. Donald A. Goodall '42, and Dr. Roy B. Sewell '22, former Alumni President and committee member ex-officio.

Final Tabulations Show Enrollment Of 8,552

Final tabulations show Auburn with a current student load of 8,552; the enrollment total for the same quarter last year was 8,517. Current figures indicate a slight drop in over-all undergraduate registration and a consistent increase in graduate enrollment.

Graduate enrollment presently stands at 829; the highest previous regular-quarter registration of graduate students was 655 last fall. (Graduate enrollment, in contrast to that of undergraduates, peaks each year during the summer quarter when large numbers of teachers return to the campus for advanced study. Significantly, however, the present graduate group of 829 is only slightly smaller than this past summer's record 927).

Breakdown of enrollment shows 6,425 men and 2,127 women registered. School of Science and Literature leads with 2,835. The bulge in this school's enrollment is due to establishment of the pre-engineering course, with 1,800 students taking all their freshman year work in S and L. Previously these would have been classified as engineering school students.

Enrollment by other schools follows: Education, 1,882; Engineering, 1,574; Architecture and the Arts, 645; Agriculture, 601; Chemistry, 340; Home Economics, 251; Veterinary Medicine, 225, and Pharmacy, 198.

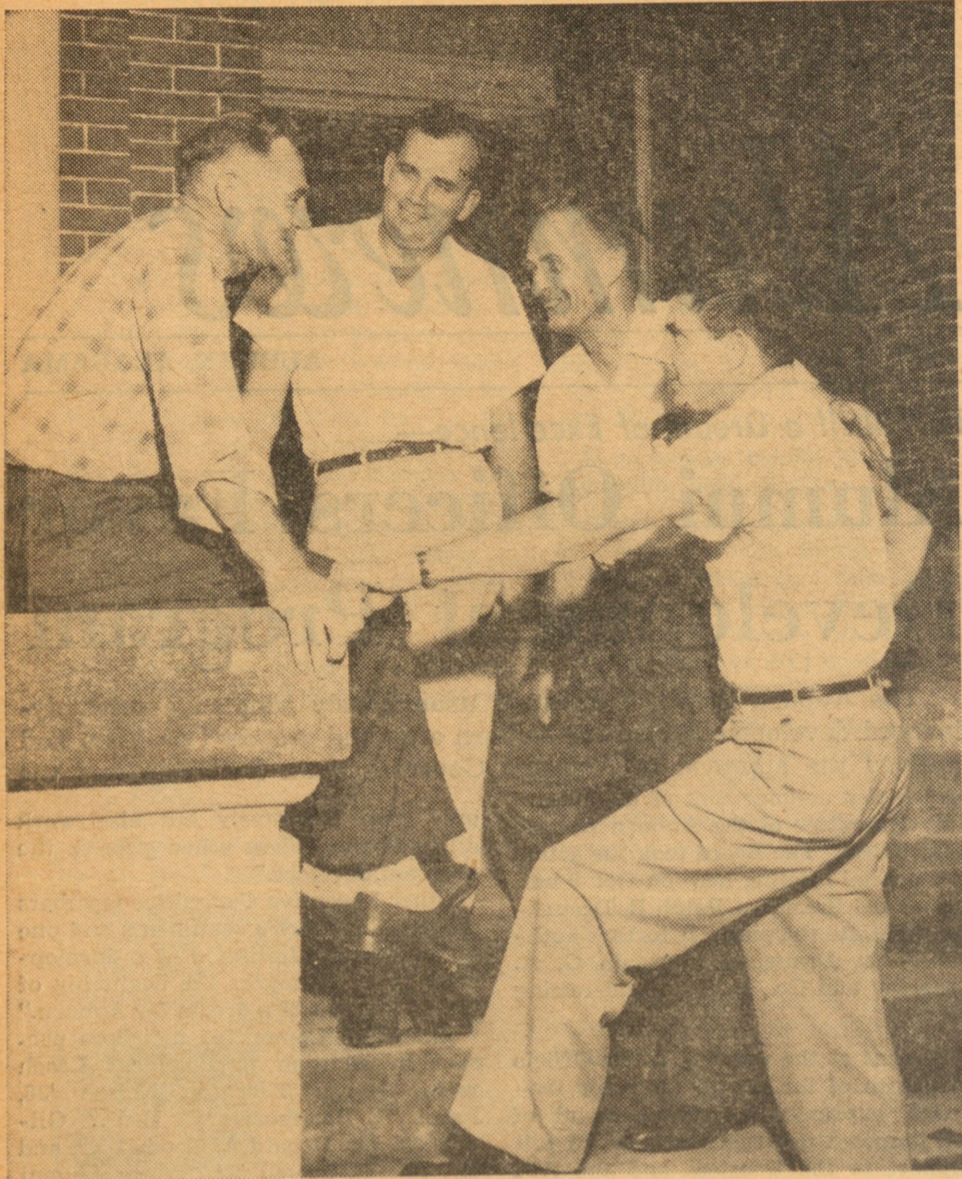

Enrollment by classes includes: freshmen, 3,024; sophomores, 1,718; juniors, 1,491; seniors, 1,265; graduates, 829. There are 70 fifth year students and 165 special and unclassified students.

Senate Confirms Four Trustees For Auburn

The Alabama Senate has confirmed Governor John Patterson's appointments for four positions on the Auburn Board of Trustees.

New on the board are William J. Forester, Dothan, dairyman from the third Alabama Congressional District; and John W. Overton, Montgomery business man, from the Second District.

Re-appointed are R. C. (Red) Bamberg, Alabama Commissioner of Agriculture, from the Sixth District; and Redus Collier, Decatur insurance executive, from the Eighth District.

They Came Back To School—Nowadays Alabama county agricultural agents are eagerly returning to Auburn for advanced study. Taking a between-classes break on Comer Hall's steps are (l. to r.) R. H. Kirkpatrick '42, Allen Brown '47, Ralph Jones '35, and Roy Ledbetter '54. Kirkpatrick, county agent in Prattville, is taking his sixth course in Auburn's new Master of Agriculture program; Brown, assistant county agent in Union Springs, and Ledbetter, assistant county agent in Dothan, have both taken study leave to spend full time pursuing Master's studies in agricultural economics and zoology-entomology, respectively. Jones is Extension Service training specialist (See Extension story on page 1).

Editorial Capsules

There Is No New Thing

The ninth verse of the first chapter of "Ecclesiastes" contains the best argument that we know of for emphasis upon the humanities throughout our school programs:

"The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun."

Accent Upon The Wrong Question

Elmo Roper has surveyed parents around the nation and discovered that 69 per cent of the current crop of children are expected to go to college. Mr. Roper and Ford Foundation, which released a report of the survey, are particularly concerned that "relatively few families are preparing realistically to meet the expenses involved."

The Alumnews is more concerned about the fact that Mr. Roper apparently didn't see fit to ask parents why they want their children to go to college and what kind of tax programs they will support to keep the college doors open and at the same time raise the level of instruction. These are questions that a lot of people had better face realistically soon, for our colleges are not prepared to handle even 25 per cent of the World War II and post-war born children. They are now struggling to meet the needs of about 21 per cent of a much less populous generation.

Beyond Questioning?

"Education is rarely openly attacked for it still has a position akin to religion and motherhood. Yet it is damned by inaction expressed in feelings of indifference . . ." says James S. Kelly, editor of The Alumni Gazette of the College of William and Mary in Virginia. Perhaps Jim Kelly is hitting at the heart of the American educational and religious dilemma. Have we not elevated education and religion to positions beyond questioning and thus lost for them the vitality that is nourished by the agonizing questions of those earnestly seeking the truth too often veiled by outward forms?

Of An Antipathy For Can-Can

American journalists have failed me again. Nowhere have I found a satisfactory explanation of what appeared to be a genuine Khrushchev antipathy for the can-can scene that he saw filmed in Hollywood. One can square the chief Russian's protests against the

From the Editor's Cubbyhole

The Tale Of The Vagrant Scholar

By JERRY RODEN, JR. '46

(The ensuing column contains too much fiction to be factual but not quite enough to be absolutely truthful.)

Once I had a not too admirable friend who was foolish enough to accept seriously the axiom "Honesty is the best policy." He adopted honesty as a policy for all his actions, even his dishonest ones. This lad was my friend long ago during that wonderful period of life when one can afford friendship with a person who does not conform to any of the acceptable standards for admirability. My friend, as I was well aware, was a complete rogue except for the fact that he was perfectly honest about the depths of his own dishonesty.

For purposes of easy reference, let us call my friend Lecci, which is actually one of his legal names. However, he has been known by sundry nicknames for so long that Lecci serves better than any other word that I can think of to identify him and at the same time to obscure his identity.

Honesty as translated in Lecci's policy applied only to honesty of statement and frank avowal of purpose. His policy worked admirably whenever and wherever he tried it—and to my knowledge he never tried anything else anywhere. He never possessed enough originality or versatility for inconsistency, and he was too shrewd not to recognize a good thing when he had it going his way. His effective manipulation of the problem of keeping classroom work acceptable to his teachers and at the same time interesting to him serves as an excellent example of his policy in operation.

At the beginning of each new course Lecci made a forthright statement—either directly to the teacher or in such a manner that the teacher knew that it was intended for her ears—of his intention to cheat his way "through this one." As a result teachers usually made the mistaken assumption that Lecci was the class genius and also something of a humorist. If they had been sharp enough they would have learned better rather quickly, for Lecci began keeping his word with the first examination—if required homework did not require him to start earlier. However, he rarely got caught copying; he could read a full page of illegible scrawl at a glance from forty paces; and he was marvelously adept at making his answer appear different on discussion questions by simply re-ordering sentence structure and changing such relatively non-essential things as adjectives, conjunctions, and prepositions.

If Lecci did become a bit lax and get caught in the act of copying, he anticipated the teacher's objection with a pathetic protest that Ralph, Cleburne, or Willowdean, as the case might be, really ought to learn to write more clearly if they expected him to be able to see ten feet in front of him by the time he finished high school. Teachers could never quite cope with this disarming frankness. I am not certain, but I believe that after a teacher realized that Lecci was not the class genius, she decided that he was a bewildered child that somehow just could not comprehend the mores of the adult world. By the time she learned better, she couldn't admit how much she had been taken and retain an ounce of personal pride and prestige. Hence, Lecci never had to worry about future teachers' receiving information from the one he was duping at the moment.

Thus, Lecci sailed along not quite calmly but without difficulty or study as long as he chose to continue in school. He never failed; he never learned anything new from the eighth grade on; and he very often came out with the second best grade in class. He had an uncanny knack for knowing just who was prepared for any examination, but he made it a point of honor never to make quite as much as the boy or girl from whom he copied.

Lecci's adeptness at copying kept his class work acceptable to his teachers—at least as far as his report card went, which was the only acceptability that he was particularly concerned with and that only because his father checked report cards with a plowline in the other hand. However, he became so competent at cheating that it eventually lost its original thrill, and he had to find other ways to keep class life vibrantly alive. He sifted the minds of his classmates seeking new ideas for plans to disrupt orderly instruction.

Using the combined genius of the entire class, he came up with some really excellent pranks that kept the teacher in a dither and the class in an uproar. When he was caught, he reported, with childish innocence, that Joe, Edwin, or Gordon, as the case might be, told him to do what he had just done. After a series of such incidents, he put some of his own ideas into practice and admitted self-instigation, but no teacher ever believed him. Joe, Edwin, and Gordon shared his bad conduct grades with him.

This story has a surprise ending: Lecci did not graduate as the class salutatorian and he did not grow up to become a miniature Jimmy Hoffa. He quit school some two or three years prior to the graduation of our class. By that time he had exhausted the possible range of rather harmless pranks that were his forte. Personal violence and willful destruction of public property, the logical next steps, went somewhat against his nature; furthermore, some of our teachers had not dispensed with the paddle, and Lecci's father always kept that plowline handy. There really wasn't much left for him to do in school.

Our community was a little backward in some respects then: Most people weren't familiar with juvenile delinquency and there were no agencies for dealing with delinquents short of the sheriff and the county jail 16 miles away. So Lecci's father did the only thing possible under the circumstances by putting him to work on the farm when he quit school. Today, Lecci is a hard-working, moderately-successful farmer. Strangely enough he still insists that "Honesty is the best policy," and he is generally respected in the community as a man of his word.

dance with Communist dogma without too much cerebration; nevertheless, translations of his remarks have an indignant moral tone much more in keeping with that I have heard in the exhortations of fundamentalistic preachers in the mountains of North Alabama. Could it be that the Russian premier might have been a staunch Free-Will Baptist or New England Puritan if he had been born at a more propitious place and season?

Teen-Age Confessions

Recently there has again been considerable furore excited by the unpurgated edition of Lady Chatterly's Lover. In this novel D. H. Lawrence offended many people's moral sensibility by using unacceptable four-letter words, principally of Anglo-Saxon origin, to describe activities only referred to in polite society in longer terms, principally Latin derivatives. Regardless of what we think of the language Lawrence chose to convey his intention, we must admit if we read at all carefully that his intention was the elevation not the degradation of human emotions.

The other day on the magazine stand of a small town drugstore I found a publication entitled Teen-Age Confessions. I have seen some articles pointing to the problem of mass distribution of pornography to our children, but Teen-Age Confessions has not excited any special attention. Perhaps it isn't even considered pornographic, for all of the words that it uses—taken individually—are acceptable. Teen-Age Confessions features such intimate little stories as "My Father Had A Crush On Me" and "My Teacher Loved Me."

THE AUBURN ALUMNEWS

Vol. XIV, No. 8

October, 1959

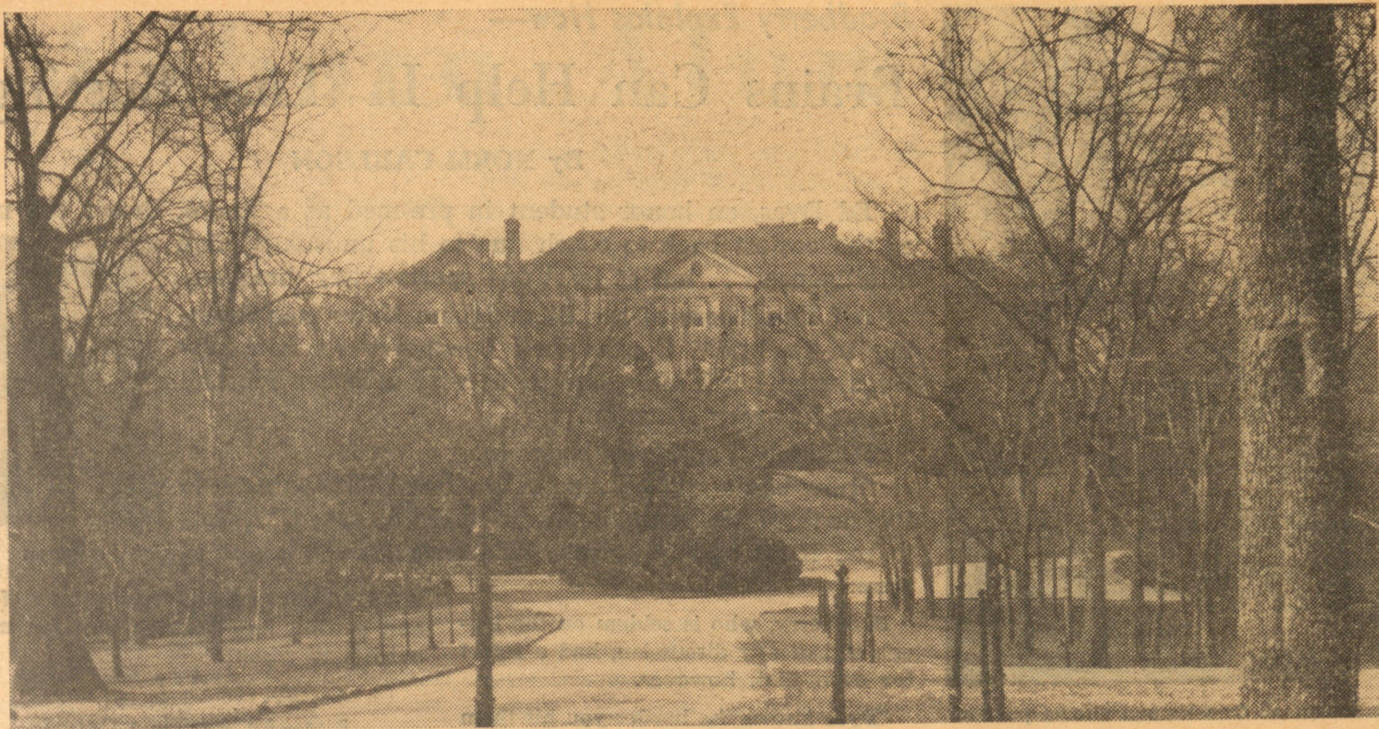

Restricted Edition

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

PRESIDENT: Edmund C. Leach, '15; EXECUTIVE SECRETARY: Joseph B. Sarver, Jr., '37; EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: George Thornton Nelson, '38; Frank H. Hawthorne, '46; Ben S. Gilmer, '26; E. N. Merriwether, '30; Dr. Donald A. Goodall, '42; Roy B. Sewell, '22, ex-officio.

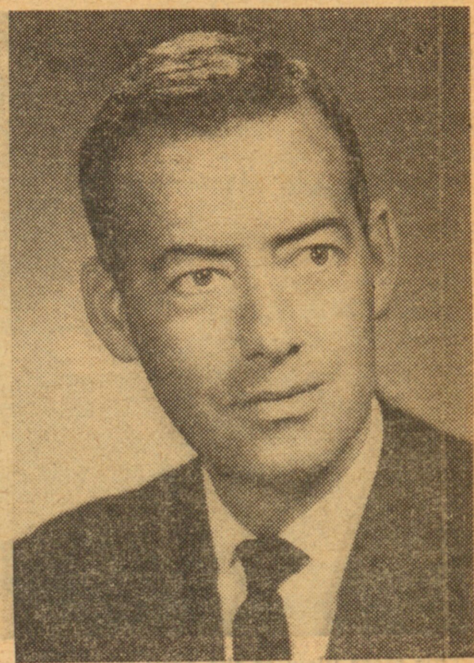

THE AUBURN ALUMNEWS is published by Auburn Alumni Association, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala. Jerry Roden, Jr., '46, is editor. The staff includes Bill Beckwith, '51, sports editor; Lester King, '51, API photographer. The Auburn Alumnews was entered as second class matter February 4, 1946, at the Post Office, Auburn, Alabama, under the Act of August 24, 1912.

This sixty-room mansion dominates the famous Cheekwood estate that is being converted into a fine arts center, arboretum, and botanical garden. Cheekwood is located on Highway 100 just west of Nashville, Tennessee.

Harry Lowe '43—director of the Tennessee Fine Arts Center being established at Cheekwood.

Lowe directs new Tennessee cultural center

Auburn's Harry Lowe '43 is director of the Tennessee Fine Arts Center being established near Nashville. In September he resigned as API professor of art to accept the directorship of the center, which is tentatively scheduled for public opening next May. The new cultural center is located just west of Nashville on the famous Cheekwood estate, adjacent to Percy Warner Park. Conversion of the estate into a combination fine arts center, arboretum, and botanical garden will provide for an institution unique in the Southeast. Permanent quarters for a civic drama group are in present plans and future plans may include music, crafts, art classes, and an extensive educational program. Cheekwood's former owners, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sharp, gave the property to a general welfare corporation for the purpose of establishing the cultural center.

The sixty-room Cheekwood mansion, which is being converted into the art museum, is one of the finest, most impressive in the Mid-South. Country Life magazine says, "Cheekwood must be reckoned among the finest country residences in the United States." Its towering mahogany doors to main rooms are from Grosvenor House in London. The spiral stairway in its East wing is from Queen Charlotte's palace at Kew, England. Priceless Adam mantels and other Georgian fixtures such as chandeliers and wall panels will remain in rooms that are not converted into modern exhibition galleries. Such rooms will be used for meetings, lecture halls, and a library. The Center already has a small collection of paintings and art objects, but its exhibitions will be made up largely of changing shows.

Great iron gates, imported from London, open from the park into the huge Cheekwood estate. Among Cheekwood's horticultural treasures are hundreds of flowering shrubs and trees native to the Tennessee Valley. The estate includes large tracts of meadows and woodlands. Its boxwood garden alone has been evaluated at $100,000 and was considered one of the two finest in the United States when it was laid out. In addition, the setting is enhanced by many objects of art, patios, terraces, three small lakes, numerous fountains, sundials, and statuary groups. There are plans for a garden center and an educational program with it also.

HARRY LOWE

Harry Lowe, a native Alabamian, was born in Opelika and received his undergraduate art degrees from Auburn. Upon completing three years of military service during World War II, part of which was spent in active service in Europe, he returned to school for graduate study. His graduate studies were interrupted when he was offered a teaching position at Auburn. Harry says, "I thought that they were joking. I had never thought of becoming a teacher." However, he obviously liked teaching and served Auburn capably. During his tenure here he rose from the rank of temporary instructor to that of full professor. During this time he completed his Master's degree and pursued further studies at Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan; he also continued his work as a creative artist and has seen his paintings exhibited in New York and in many galleries and museums.

It was at Cranbrook Academy that Harry first became interested in museum work. There, as at the Tennessee Fine Arts Center, the museum is situated in beautiful gardens. Harry enthusiastically points out the unique advantages of such a location—and he is equally

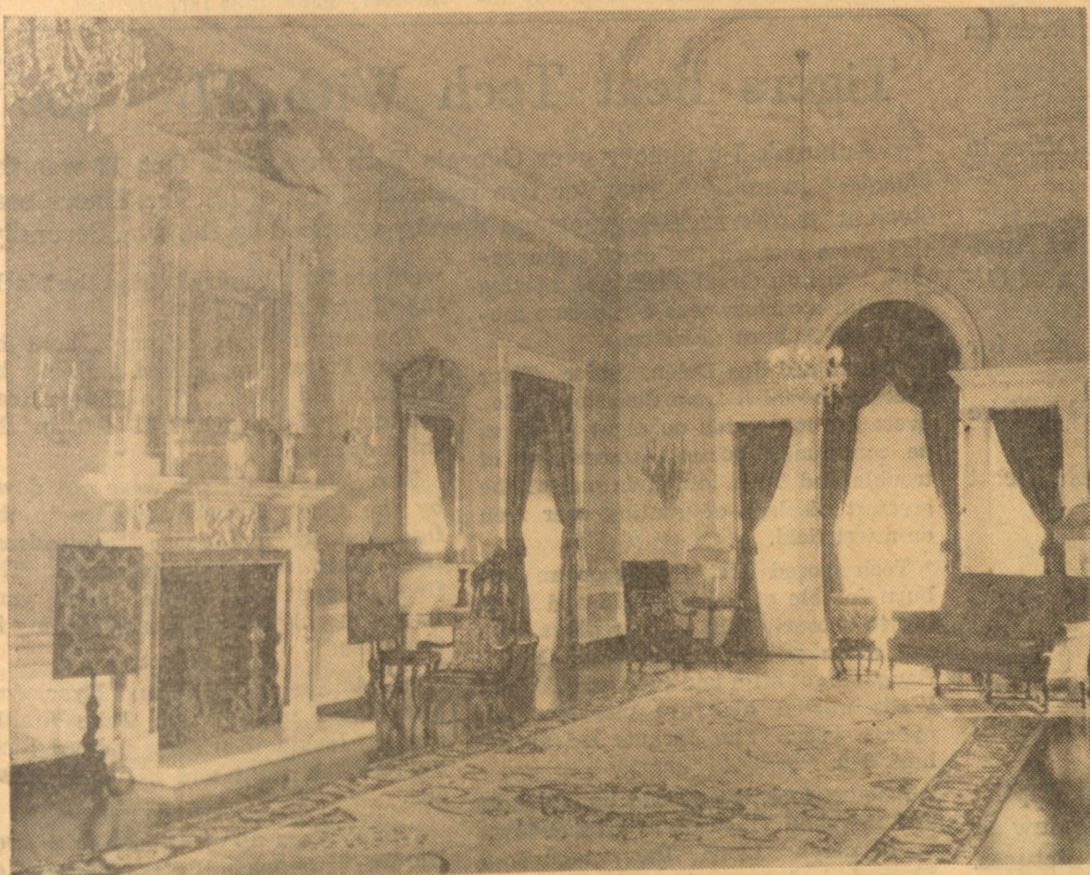

(Continued on page 4)

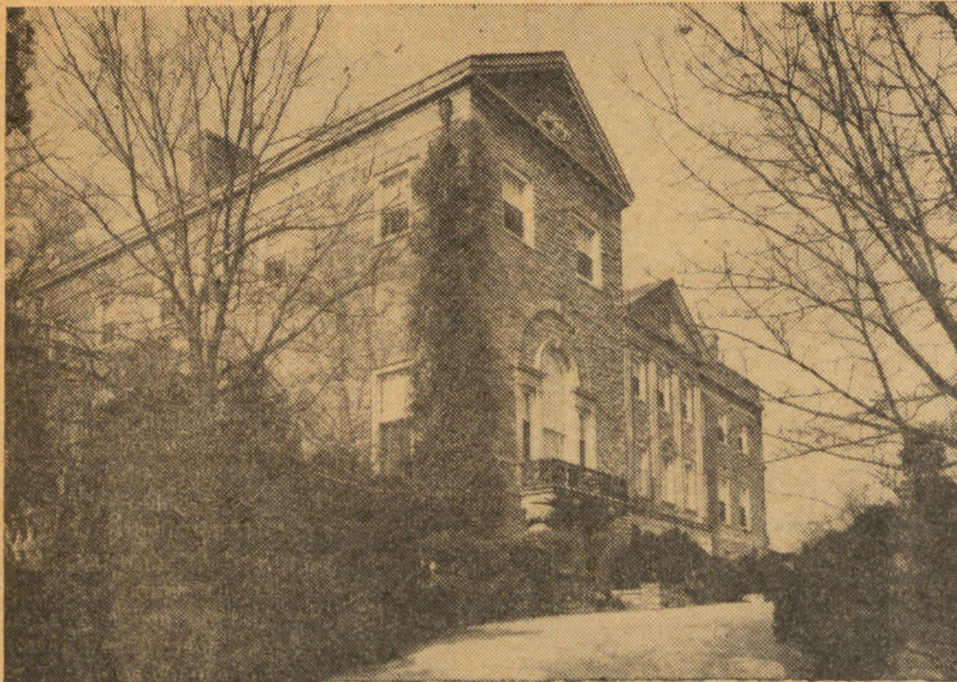

Classic Roman figures take on three-dimensional quality in the green, gold, and ivory antique Italian wall panels in the transverse hall of Cheekwood. Mahogany door at left is from Grosvenor House in London.

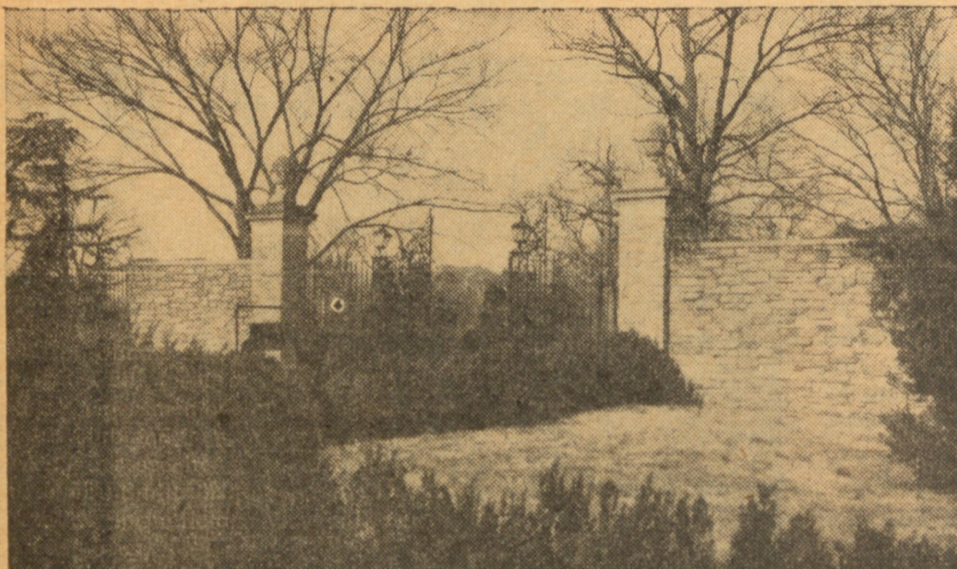

This spiral stairway is the focal point of Cheekwood's East wing. Indirect lighting dramatizes the immense dome atop the stair-well. Hand rail is from Queen Charlotte's palace at Kew, England.

Notable features of Cheekwood drawing-room are the imposing Georgian mantel, gigantic Persian carpet, and handsome panelling shown in the photograph above.

This close view of the gray stone Georgian mansion at Cheekwood shows part of the circular, stone-walled drive and the drawing-room's Palladian window, which was copied from a famous one in London.

The great iron gates that open into the huge estate were imported from London.

Lowe Directs New Cultural Center

(Continued from page 3)

pleased that Gordon Scott, a native of England and a graduate of Kew Gardens and Cambridge Botanical Gardens, will be director of the Botanical Gardens at Cheekwood. Scott comes to Cheekwood from Morton Arboretum in Lisle, Ill.

In addition to his work as professor and artist while at Auburn, Harry was a leader in many campus cultural activities and gained experience that will serve him well in his new position. He was chairman of exhibits for the campus, a member of the Concert and Lecture Series Committee, secretary-treasurer for the Southeastern Art Conference—which includes museums and colleges of the South—and a president of Phi Kappa Phi. In addition he served as advisor to several campus groups.

1959 Auburn Homecoming Program

Friday, October 30—

- 1-6 P.M., Registration at Alumni Office in the Union Building.
- 6:30 P.M., Alumni Association Dinner Honoring 1909 Class, Holiday Inn.
- 6:30-11:30 P.M., Alumni Association Open House Honoring Reunion Classes at Dairyland Farm, Opelika Rd.

Saturday, October 31—

- 8:30-9:30 A.M., Morning Coffee and Registration at Alumni Office in the Union Building.
- 9:00-11:00 A.M., Tours of Campus (30 Minutes)
- 10:00 A.M., Annual Business Meeting of the Auburn Alumni Association in the Union Building Ballroom, Election of Officers.
- 11:30 A.M., Pre-Game Luncheon, Union Building Ballroom, for Classes of 1909 and 1934.
- 2:00 P.M., Auburn versus University of Florida in Cliff Hare Stadium.
- 7:00 P.M. 1934 Class Banquet in the Oak Room of the Martha Scott Hotel, Opelika, Alabama.
- 1909 Class Banquet, Holiday Inn.

* * * * *

Activities of Special Groups

Saturday, October 31—

- Auburn Band Alumni Club will meet at 11:00 A.M. in Room 213, Auburn Union Building and will present keys at 1:00 on drill field east of Cliff Hare Stadium.
- Baptist Student Union Alumni Party begins at 9:00 A.M. at Baptist Student Center, 131 N. College St. Includes sneak preview of blueprints for new BSU center and display of alumni pictures. Luncheon at 11:30. Please write for reservations. Open House all day.

Bradberry Explains How—

Brains Can Help In 'Line Busting'

By NORM CARLSON

Ed Dyas, an honor student in pre-med as a junior, draws the nod as the easiest back to coach due to his unusually high intelligence . . . but at least one sportswriter disagrees.

Alf Van Hoose of the Birmingham News was listening to Backfield Coach Buck Bradberry explain how Dyas used his intelligence to become a better football player in every situation.

Suddenly Van Hoose broke in.

"How can a guy's brains help when he's busting into two or three 250-pounders in the line?" he asked. "Seems to me if he had any sense he'd ease the heck out of there."

Bradberry, who is seldom on the loser's end of any discussion, had a retort for even that, however.

"Dyas knows the harder you hit them the more likely you are to come out unmarked," he said. "It's the dainty inside runners who get hurt. The bigger the opponent, the harder Dyas hits."

And that is a pretty good way to describe the running of this 197-pound Mobile boy who has become the Auburn backfield workhorse and one of the outstanding runners in the Southeastern Conference.

Dyas picks his way, running around those he can get past and running over the rest. He averages over eight yards every time he runs the ball, good enough to lead the SEC in this department. And he's one darkhorse you may well see on the all-conference team by season's end.

"He's as good as Joe Childress was at this stage," Bradberry claims. "Of course, Childress continued to progress and became our finest fullback. Dyas is working hard to improve, too, and could be right there in Childress' class by the time he graduates."

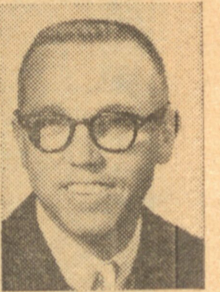

* * *

An Undefeated Spirit

Auburn spirit, which soared in victory, was just as much in evidence in defeat as the streak came to an end in Knoxville. Students, alumni, and fans took it in stride and rallied with an eye to the future.

Your Roy Sewells, Perry Peppers, George Stranges and all the other alumni took defeat as honorably as they had taken victory over the past two years. And a huge student pep rally which began immediately after the Tennessee game ended was one of the most enthusiastic in years.

Football isn't just 11 men on the field and a covey of coaches on the sidelines. Auburn has proven that the spirit of students and alumni will go a long way toward developing a winner. And that spirit has already gone a long way toward wiping out the bruises of defeat and getting the Tigers ready for new heights to climb.

Carlson

* * *

Rice—An All-Time Great?

Coaches believe junior Ken Rice, 250-pound tackle from Bainbridge, Ga., may well be the greatest Auburn tackle of all time. His performance against Hardin-Simmons was rated, "The best I've even seen by an Auburn tackle," by coach Hal Herring.

Speaking of Rice, he was named to several pre-season all-conference teams although he was a second-stringer here last year and had done nothing special which would warrant such acclaim.

One sportswriter, asked why Rice had been picked, gave this answer:

"Any time a boy weighs 250 pounds, runs like a halfback, and hits like a train you know he's a potential great no matter what string he's on."

* * *

A Staunch Defender

When we think of quarterback Richard Wood we picture the 6-5 passing-master throwing touchdown passes like the ones which helped beat four opponents last season. But there is another side of the picture.

Wood, a senior from Lanett, Ala., has turned out to be one of the outstanding Tiger defensive backs. His play in recent games proved that point.

Most people remember that Wood's second pass of the day was good for his second touchdown against Hardin-Simmons. It was a 21-yard flip to fullback John McGeever on a first down situation.

But not many remember how the Tigers got in position to score on a beautiful defensive move on the preceding play. That defensive gem, an interception of a Hardin-Simmons pass at the Cowboy 45 with a return to the 21, was made by defensive-man Wood.

Wood, a sure tackler, hit Tennessee men twice deep in Tiger territory to stop what looked like certain touchdown runs. He has made clutch tackles in every game thus far.

Tigers Beat Tech With The Toe

Auburn's 7-6 victory over Georgia Tech in Atlanta Oct. 17 was the sweetest in many a year for two reasons: First of all, the Tigers beat Tech at its own kicking game and thereby wrapped up the win. Secondly, this game marked the end of the annual trip into Grant Field and bowing out with a victory was a supreme moment for Auburn diehards.

Unheralded Joe Dolan, junior Tiger kicking specialist from Cedartown, Ga., averaged 46.7 yards on eight punts as he continually booted Auburn out of trouble and Tech into it in one of the greatest displays of punting ever seen on a wet field.

Tech scored first, falling on an Auburn fumble at the Tiger 18 and moving to a touchdown in four plays. On the extra point Jacket center Maxie Baughan got off a bad snap and Tommy Wells missed his first placement in over a year. The Jackets led at the half, 6-0.

Auburn took the second half kickoff and marched 71 yards to a touchdown in 11 plays. Lamar Rawson covered 30 yards in four carries to be the leading ground-gainer in this drive and sophomore quarterback Bobby Hunt went six for the score behind the blocking of tackle Ken Rice.

The extra point attempt, held by Jimmy Pettus, was kicked perfectly by fullback Ed Dyas. The Tigers took command, 7-6, with 8:41 left in the third quarter.

Three Jacket threats were put down by the tough Auburn defense in the final quarter and twice Tech missed field goals in Auburn territory. The final attempt came from the 21 yard line with only 12 seconds remaining in the game.

In addition to Dolan and Dyas, Auburn stars were guard Zeke Smith, center Jackie Burkett, tackle Rice, quarterback Hunt and halfback Rawson.

(Note: Wrap-up of Auburn wins over Hardin-Simmons and Kentucky and of the Tiger loss to Tennessee are omitted because of space problems, but will appear later.)

Auburn Alumnnalities

dustry at the laboratory in Summerdale, Pa.

1937

1904

James L. Murphy '04 of Andalusia has now passed his 82nd birthday.

1909

Golden Anniversary reunion time is just around the corner for the class of naught nine, which will gather here for homecoming on the weekend of October 31. The ALUMNEWS will continue to run thumbnail sketches on class members during the next few months until we have completed the list of surviving class members, or until we have exhausted available material.

George L. Harris is living at Anna-Maria, Fla. Anna-Maria is located on an island just out from Bradenton.

Phil P. (Pete) Scroggs is a practicing architect in Augusta, Ga. Except for service in World War I, Pete has practiced architecture ever since leaving Auburn in '09. In 1921 Whitley Ewing '10 joined Pete as a partner. Their partnership continued until the death of Mr. Ewing several years ago. Under the name of Scroggs & Ewing, the firm has designed many notable buildings in Augusta and the surrounding territory. Pete is married and has two sons.

Russell N. Bean of Cullman became associated with Moore-Handley Hardware Co. of Birmingham after leaving Auburn and remained with the company until September, 1955. For the last 34 years of his association with Moore Handley he was sales representative for North Central Alabama with headquarters in Cullman. Mr. Bean is an overseas veteran of World War I, a member of Zamora Shrine, Elks, and the Auburn Alumni Association, a past commander of Cullman Post No. 4 of the American Legion, and past president of the Cullman Kiwanis Club. His hobbies are football, baseball and fishing.

1911-1913

Dr. Benjamin H. Moon '11 has been transferred to Central Packing Co. in Center Hill, Fla. He and his wife are living in Bushnell, Fla.

Edward W. Dillard '12 of Harvard, Mass., retired last August as chief engineer of the New England Electric System after 43 years with the system and 47 years in the electric power field. He is now a consulting engineer in the electric utility field.

J. B. Pennington '13, who retired on July 1, was absent from opening exercises at the high school in Blountsville for the first time in 42 years. His name is not missing, however; for Blountsville High in recent years has been renamed J. B. Pennington High School by grateful patrons and former students.

1916-1917

Dr. Willis C. Roycroft '16 of Bayou LaBatre has been appointed to a six-year term on Alabama's Advisory Board of Conservation. He will represent the seafood industry on the board.

Edward B. Henry '17 of Pensacola, Fla., is relay engineer for the Gulf Power Co.

Lt. Col. Carey C. Robinson '17 (Inf., A.U.S., Retired) has moved to Ormond Beach, Fla., where he recently purchased a new home.

John M. Ward '17, executive vice-president of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce, has been elected president of the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. The Council of State Chambers is a national organization with research offices and a staff in Washington, D. C.

1922-1923

Col. Herman Orr '22 has retired from the Army and has been appointed Chief, Construction and Evaluation Branch, Office Chief of Engineers, Washington, D. C. He is living in Alexandria, Va.

Earle Wilson '22 of Brewton has been elected a district governor of Rotary International for the 1959-60 fiscal year. Mr. Wilson is president of the Brewton Iron Works, iron and steel producers. He has been a member of Brewton Rotary Club since 1925 and is a past president of the club. He is a former member of the Brewton City Council and past executive director of the Gulf Coast Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Judson M. Gillespie '23 is with Gulf Power Company in Pensacola, Fla., where he is supervisor of Transmission and Distribution.

J. Ernest Bridges '23 of Tuskegee, who has owned and operated Bridges Cotton Co. for 36 years, retired in August and sold his business to a former partner.

1926

Col. Edward B. James '25, retired staff officer of the Chemical Corps Command at Ft. McClellan, has become assistant professor of economics at Jacksonville State College.

John J. Weatherby '25 operates the Weatherby Engineering Co., Engineers & Constructors in Houston, Tex.

Fred P. Baker '25 is living in Montgomery.

Edward E. McCall '26 is president and treasurer of the Anniston Land Company, Anniston.

Earl Cason '26 is with the Plant Pest Control Division of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Crystal City, Tex., where he is work unit supervisor.

Geddes Self '26, principal of Walker County High School in Jasper, continues well after an apparent victory over the ill health and adversity that have troubled him in recent years.

Temp S. Davis '26 who joined the Georgia Power Company in 1934 as a lighting engineer, has been promoted to vice president of the company.

J. Rogers Moore '26 is living in Florence.

1927-1928

Phineas E. Fitzpatrick '28 of Bound Brook, N. J., has been elected district governor for Rotary International for the 1959-60 fiscal year. He is assistant superintendent of the Union Carbide Plastics Co., plastics manufacturers in Bound Brook. He has been a member of Bound Brook Rotary Club since 1952 and is a past president of the club.

Cecil Stowe

Cecil S. Stowe '28 of Opelika has been named Manager of the newly-created Customer Relations section of Orr Industries' Irish Tape Marketing Division. Stowe, who has had 14 years experience with a daily newspaper and 10 years as store manager in retail merchandising, has been handling sales promotions and public relations for Orr Industries. In his new capacity, he will handle customer service and sales administration.

New Addresses: C. Selman Zeigler '27 Senatobia, Miss.; DeCarr C. Braddy, '27, Akron, Ohio; R. Paul Holley '27, Baton Rouge, La.; Royce C. Crawford '27, Kirkwood, Mo.

1929-1931

James R. Speed '30 of Enterprise, Coffee County Agricultural Extension Agent, received a Distinguished Service Award at the National County Agents' Meeting in Kansas City on Sept. 10.

F. W. Fulton '30 is new general claim agent for Birmingham Transit Co. He began working with Birmingham Electric Co. in 1933.

New Addresses: Mrs. Mary Ward Lurie '29, Auburn; Roy A. Wesson '31, Gilbertsville, Ky.; Hartwell T. Harrell '31 Quitman, Miss.; Hugh W. Overton '31, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Rushton O. Kimbro '31, Columbus, Ohio; Col. Hugh M. Arnold '31, Staff and Faculty, US Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

1934

Members of the class of 1934 will gather in Auburn for their silver anniversary reunion on the weekend of October 31. Preliminary reservations indicate a large turnout of class members.

Bill Dorrough, now serving his third term as mayor of Leeds, makes good subject matter for the big city press. Just recently The Birmingham News featured him for his accomplishments in securing industry for his city. According to The News, "Most everybody in Leeds will tell you that Mayor Bill Dorrough is a character. And they will quickly add 'that you won't find a better one.'"

Horace A. Shepard is associated with Thompson Ramo Woolridge, Inc., in Cleveland, Ohio.

Lt. Col. Roy C. Brewer is in the Office of the Inspector General in Washington, D. C.

1935-1936

Alfred K. Allen '35 has become executive vice president of Folmar & Flynn Industries, Inc., construction and engineering firm of Montgomery.

Dr. Howard B. Smith '36 is a pathologist for the Bureau of Animal In-

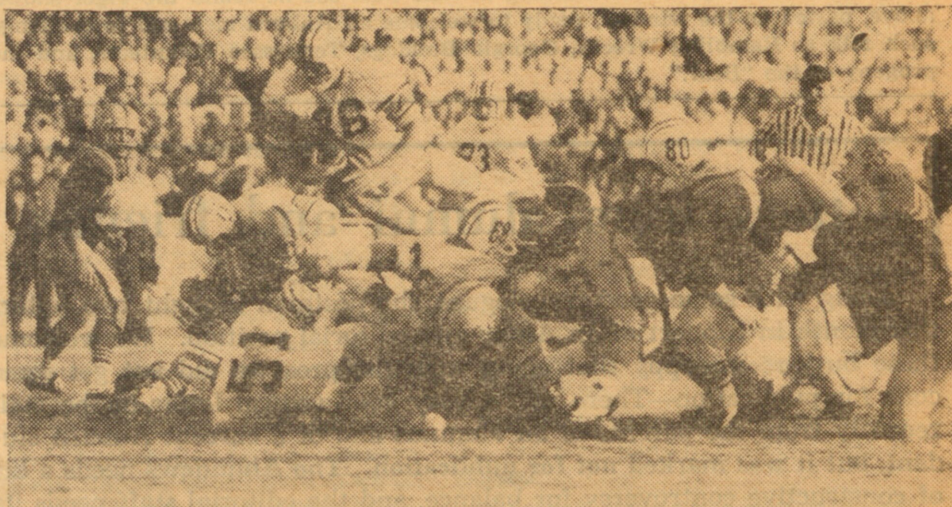

On occasions The Alumnews is just a wee bit slow, but eventually we catch up. For example, Rubye L. Sullivan '36 of Groveland, Fla., has remained on our records by that name since the Alumni Association was founded. Friends in the Class of '36 will be interested to know that she is now Mrs. W. H. Sheets and that after spending seven years teaching and four years in the U. S. Army (in the United States and the South Pacific), she has been a housewife for 11 years. Her husband—a Pittsburgh, Pa., native—is a Florida banker, citrus grower, and Angus cattle breeder. They belong to the Florida Flying Farmers and enjoy their friends' stopping over when going by either way.

Lorenzo H. Gunter '36 has been appointed manager of the Veterans Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was formerly assistant manager of the VA Hospital in Hines, Ill.

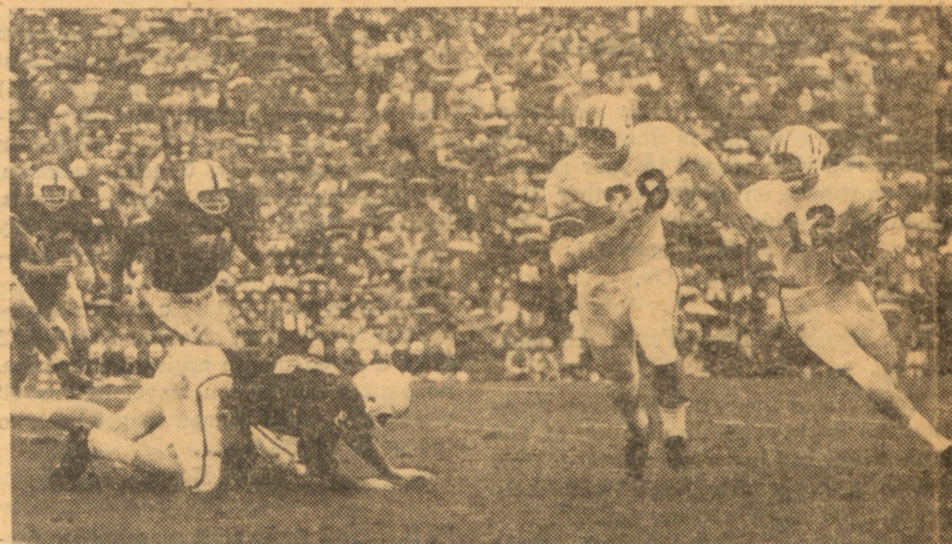

New Addresses: Col. and Mrs. Sam W. Westbrook '35 (Frances McGehee '33), McLean, Va.; Mrs. Lonnie I. McNutt, '35, Washington, D. C.

(Continued on page 6)

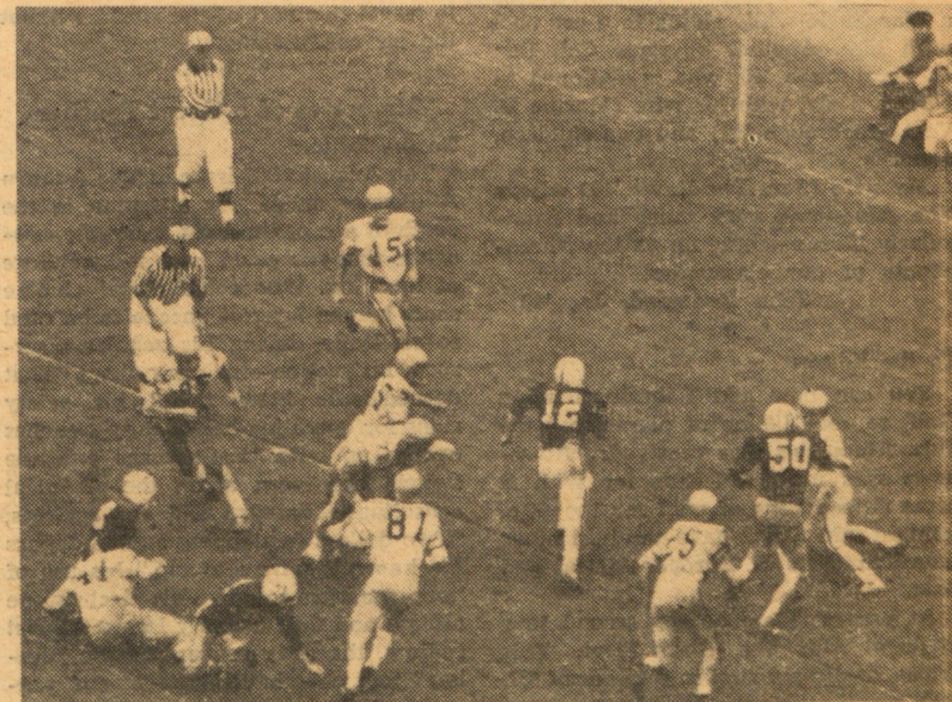

Auburn Football Games In Review

Johnny McGeever, finding no gap, hurdles the line for a TD against Hardin-Simmons. Final score—Auburn 35, Hardin-Simmons, 12.

Ed Dyas (38) convoys Bobby Hunt (12) for a nine-yard gain against Kentucky. Auburn defeated Kentucky 33-0 for first conference win.

Bobby Hunt (12) crosses Georgia Tech's goal line to set up Auburn's 7 to 6 win.

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

Auburn Tiger Snarls At Mile Post 632 On The Alcan Highway—1/Sgt. Edwin Nichols, an adopted son of Auburn and a member of Uncle Sam's Air Force, received an Alaskan assignment to which he motored up the Alcan Highway, cooking and camping all the way. In the building at Mile Post 632 he found the Tiger shown above, pasted on the window, ready to welcome all Auburn men and to challenge such folk as Rambling Wrecks, Georgia Bulldogs, Tennessee Volunteers, and the progeny of the "Bear."

letters from alumni and friends

Along with some good travelogues, the postman brought two letters this month in support of an Alumnews editorial position. We welcome these but are unhappy that along with the pros we did not get some cons for publication—There was a very good critical letter in the mail recently from the parents of an alumnus and of a current Auburn student, but it was marked not for publication. The Alumnews needs a bit of constructive controversy for balance, and the editorial staff needs its pet opinions challenged lest its members become complacent and callous. The invitation for letters is to parents, friends, and faculty as well as regular alumni.

For Emphasis On Quality

To the Editor:

I wish to voice my hearty agreement with your editorial in the September Alumnews with regard to your request for emphasis on quality rather than quantity in education.

Fred Duggar, III, '44
Atlanta, Ga.

War Eagle Echoes From Abroad

To the Editor:

Your recent issue, in which you mention the world-wide distribution of The Alumnews, has just been received. How true it is that a "War Eagle" will likely get a reply anywhere on earth.

At this headquarters (Seventh Army) in Stuttgart, Germany, Maj. William W. Edwards '51 sits a couple of buildings over in G-2. I found out that he was a War Eagle while riding in a car pool with him. Another alumnus Col. Ben A. Scarbrough '40, who is stationed in Naples, Italy, with his wife (Martha D. Vest Scarbrough '42) and two children, recently visited us.

My wife (Sara Lee Davis '40) enjoys The Alumnews very much and particularly likes catching up on the whereabouts of our classmates.

John Redmond, Jr., '40

To the Editor:

You can now add Bahrain, Persian Gulf, to your listing of places that the July Alumnews was received. Alumnews was most welcome, for with it came fifteen bags of mail for the ship. I might add that I have received other issues in parts of Europe, Africa, and Asia.

At present I am on my second tour of duty with the Sixth Fleet. This cruise, as did my first in summer of '57, took me through the Mediterranean to the Red Sea, Indian Ocean, and Persian Gulf area. Both of my cruises have been made aboard destroyers—the first aboard the Lewis Hancock (DD 575) and the second aboard the Daly (DD-517). On this cruise I have visited in Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Lebanon, Egypt (transit of the Suez), Ethiopia, Bahrain, Saudi Arabia, and Aden. My favorite countries were Italy and Lebanon . . .

The Daly will return to her home-port of Newport on or about October 12 after a seven-month cruise. Believe me, no matter where you travel in this ol' world it is always good to get back to the good ol' USA . . .

J. W. Hayes, Jr., '56
Lt. (jg) USNR

P. S. . . . I thought it was hot in Auburn during the summers. The only thing that saves us from the heat is the air-conditioned wardroom. I would hate to travel this part of the world without the air conditioning.

Memories of a Great Teacher

To the Editor:

The August 1959 issue of The Auburn Alumnews called our attention to the death of one of the most enjoyable educators that one could have the privilege of knowing. Who could forget those short human interest anecdotes he used so skillfully during his regular classroom instruction—his story about "That darned mule blew first," his safety rules for operating heavy-duty switches ending up with "Let George pull the switch," his yarn about the electrical consultant's detailed bill for services, "Two dollars for tapping and 98 dollars for knowing where to tap," his use of "teen-age boys to move his electroscope around and thus actually locate the lost radium, the ditty concerning the "dink-key" that once hauled freight and passengers between Opelika and Auburn, etc? Prof. Dunstan's methods of instruc-

George J. Burrus, III, is at present employed by Douglas Aircraft Co. at Cape Canaveral, Fla., as a missile engineer. He is in charge of air conditioning on the Thor Missile and also air conditioned the payload of the three Lunar Probes and Explorer VI, the "Paddle Wheel" satellite, now in orbit around the earth. He lives with his father on Merritt Island, Fla., is a trustee of ATO fraternity, and has been either president or vice-president of the Auburn Band Alumni Association since its organization in 1950.

William Leslie Denham, who is an Amplistat and Encapsulated Transformer engineer for General Electric Co. in Ft. Wayne, Ind., has been issued his first United States patent. The patent concerns a new method of mounting small transformer cores and coils within a metallic case.

Dr. D. P. Culp, president of Livingston State College, is in the Philippines as a member of a team of six United States educators that will direct a study of the national system of Philippine education.

L. C. Alsobrook of Selma, Dallas County Agricultural Extension Agent, received a Distinguished Service Award at the National County Agents' Meeting in Kansas City on Sept. 10.

1938

Hester Sidorsky Garrett is teaching at Ledbetter School in Montgomery.

New Addresses: CDR. Morton A. Prager, McLean, Va.; Lt. Col. Walter H. Heath, Jr., Forbes AFB, Topeka, Kans.

1939

George V. Stelzenmuller, Jr., veteran FCC engineer who most recently served as Chief of the Treaty Branch of the Commission's Frequency Allocation Treaty Division, has joined the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization staff as Deputy Director of Engineering for the tion were both stimulating and effective. A real highlight of the 1951 "meeting" of the class of '26 was my privilege of conversing again with this wonderful man. It is indeed pleasant to know that his portrait occupies a place of honor at Auburn and can be viewed on occasion by us who learned so much from him.

Ralph L. Creel, '26
Chevy Chase, Md.

Let's Take A Stand

To the Editor:

This letter from a friend of Auburn is intended to encourage you and your readers in greater use of the newly-created letters column.

The time-honored custom of "writing to the editor" may seem an obsolescence in our day to many—A far cry perhaps from the time when country newspapers were the main source of communication, and people more prone to take a stand and let other readers know of this stand.

Let's have more letter-writing rather than less. Perhaps it even ties in a little bit with what the good non-conformists can do towards "taking the second step."—This in reference to your excellent "Editor's Cubbyhole" editorial in the September issue. We surely need more stress on fundamentals in today's colleges and secondary schools, far less effort given to the mis-guided and futile "life adjustment" theories.

Your publication is well-rounded, readable, and informative. To encourage greater depth of readership, why not offer a free subscription to the Alumnews . . . for the best article or letter on the exact nature of that truly wonderful Auburn spirit? A second on "Why I Chose Auburn as my College." Do this twice a year at least.

Keep the Alumnews coming. I like it fine!

Willard V. Merwin
Mobile, Ala.

Editor's Note: We have passed Mr. Merwin's suggestion on to our Alumnews advisory group, which is considering it and some similar ideas.

OCDM telecommunications office. Mr. Stelzenmuller joined the FCC staff in 1941 at the agency's Grand Island, Nebraska, field installation; he moved to Washington headquarters of the commission following service in the Navy in 1943-46. He was named Chief of the FCC Treaty Branch in 1949.

Col. Walton

Col. Abbott B. Walton, who was recently promoted to the rank of full colonel in the Infantry, is with the ROTC Instructor Group at the University of Florida. Col. Walton commanded an Infantry battalion in the Southwest Pacific during World War II and has since served in Europe and Korea. He is married to Bobbie Robbins '39 and they have two children—Brand, 12, and Robin, 8.

D. G. Somerville of Tusculumbia received the Distinguished Service Award at the National County Agents' Meeting in Kansas City on Sept. 11. He is Agricultural Extension Agent for Colbert County.

Milton L. Howell of Atlanta is division manager for the Southeast Division of Retail Credit Company.

Joe Gay is new club golf champion for the Saughatchee Country Club (Auburn-Opelika).

New Addresses: Andrew D. Cox, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Cella Ward Payne, Princeton; Lt. Col. Allen C. Martin, Student Det., AFSC, Norfolk, Va.; James G. Johns, Ruxton, Md.

William S. Ellis, Jr., is manager of residential sales for the Aluminum Company of America in Pittsburgh, Pa.

1940

William L. Holston is district supervisor of the USDA's Packers & Stockyard Branch that has district headquarters in Montgomery. The district includes Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

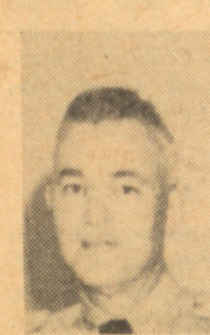

W. H. Parkman

Wiley H. Parkman has been promoted to assistant manager of the veterans administration regional office in Montgomery. He was formerly loan guaranty officer. Parkman is a graduate of both Auburn and the Jones Law School in Montgomery.

Charles G. Haynsworth is real estate officer with The Greenwich Savings Bank in New York City.

Fred Bass of Birmingham, commander of the 117th Field Maintenance Squadron of the Alabama Air National Guard, has been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel. He is a mechanical engineer at Stockham Valves and Fittings.

John C. Rice, Jr., received his Ph.D. from Mississippi State University on Aug. 15. He is currently a research professor at North Carolina State College and is director of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association. He is married to the former Elizabeth Evans and they have two sons and two daughters.

Bill Milam

Bill Milam, deputy district engineer of the Charleston (S. C.) District Mobilization Designation Unit for the U. S. Army Engineer District, has been promoted to colonel. In his civilian capacity, Col. Milam is chief of the construction division for the Charleston District.

New Addresses: H. Victor Kerns, Auburn; Tol Henderson Hollis, Birmingham.

(Continued on page 7)

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

ham; Mr. and Mrs. William A. B. u. c. e (Ruth Williams '41), Kenvil, N. J.

1941

M. R. Glasscock of Clanton received the Distinguished Service Award at the National County Agents' Meeting in Kansas City on Sept. 11. He is Agricultural Extension Agent for Chilton County.

Claude I. Carter, vice president and general manager of Alabama Flour Mills in Decatur, has been elected to a three-year term as director of the American Feed Manufacturers Association.

Dr. Lucy Dickinson Fryxwell is an associate professor of English at Augustana College in South Dakota. Mrs. Fryxwell is both a successful career woman and housemother. Her outstanding work as a teacher and mother was the subject of an August 16 feature—"Career and Motherhood Can Go Hand In Hand"—in the Sioux Falls Argus Leader. Her husband is Dr. Donald Fryxwell, chairman of the Augustana College English department. They are parents of a three-year old son, David.

New Address: Lt. Col. James R. Powers, Jackson, Miss.

1942

Born: A son, Thomas Craig, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herbert Hines, Jr., of Montgomery on Aug. 20.

Vera Reid

Vera Young Reid is in Honolulu after receiving an appointment from the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii. Miss Reid is project leader responsible for the Home Management and Home Furnishing programs for the State of Hawaii.

For the past two years she had been Home Management Supervisor at Florida State University, from which she received an MS in Home Economics. She was previously assistant home demonstration agent in Florence.

William T. Curry is associated with Dan River Mills in Danville, Va. With him in Danville are his wife Elizabeth and sons Johnny and Tommy.

Dr. Charles R. Swearingen, Jr., of Smithfield, N. C., is the newly elected president of the North Carolina State Veterinary Medical Association. He owns and operates the Willowrun Veterinary Hospital, an animal clinic designed and operated on plans similar to a human hospital.

New Addresses: Dr. George R. Ingram, Cullman; Mrs. Evelyn B. Draper, Rt. 2, Auburn; Maj. Walter Ed Brewer, Eau Gallie, Fla.; Lowell Stoddard, Oneonta.

1943

Robert F. Ellis is assistant to the general manager of the Gulf Power Company in Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. Isabel Wilson Allen is teaching at Chisholm School in Montgomery.

John C. Ball, manager of Frederick-Williams Furniture Co., has been appointed Auburn chairman for the National Federation of Independent Businesses.

New Addresses: William Howard Hart, Florence; Frank P. Forster, Warrenton, Fla.; Capt. Jack G. Ferrell, Roswell, N. M.; Dorothy Frances Floyd, Tucker, Ga.; Charles Berry, Blountstown, Fla.; Burton G. Peterson, Matthews, N. C.

1946

Annie L. Golightly is at Georgia Teachers College in Collegeboro, Ga.

Edward G. Whitby has been appointed chemist in the Division of Mineral Technology of the Bureau of Mines, U. S. Department of the Interior. He is working in College Park, Md.

Lt. Col. W. Lee Wood, Jr., is on duty in France.

Dr. Robert Lee Dorrough is at Wallace Memorial Hospital in Pusan, Korea.

New Address: Maj. John H. Maddox, Keesler AFB, Miss.

1947

Robert William Adams is with the Aluminum Company of America in Pittsburgh.

Born: A daughter, Catherine, to Mr. and Mrs. Benton T. White of Birmingham on July 27.

Yetta G. Samford, Jr., Opelika attorney, has been appointed a director of the Farmers National Bank of that city.

New Addresses: Capt. William C. Hawkins, Alexandria, La.; 1/Lt. Dale W. Parrish, Lackland AFB, Tex.; Holland Legg, Northport; Robert G. Hill, Middletown, Ohio; Robert B. Carter, Jr., Shalimar, Fla.; Clyde C. Smith, Fern Park, Fla.; Bradley T. Cox, Jr., Chicago, Ill.

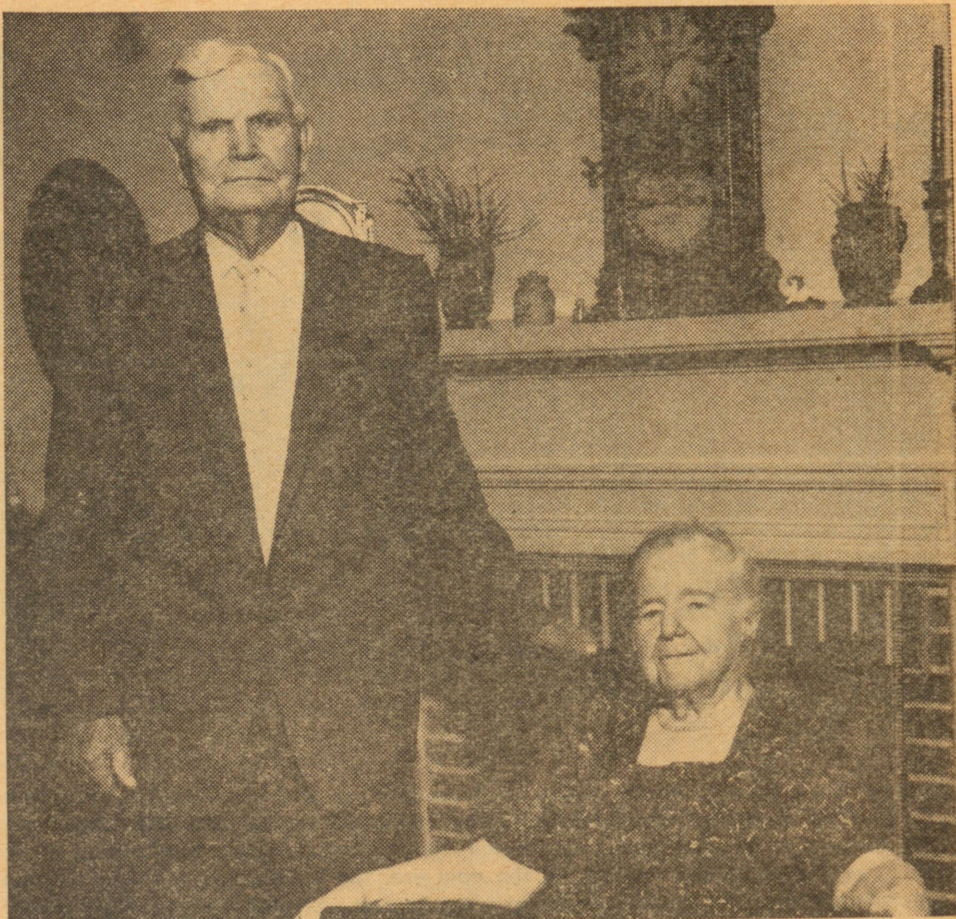

1948

J. H. Romano is with Remington Rand, Inc., in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Hollis R. Brown of Laurel, Miss., is a division engineer for the Mississippi Power Company.

Born: A daughter, Cathryn Summerour, to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison D. Campbell (Ann Summerour '49) of Montgomery on Aug. 27. . . . A son, Stephen Garrard, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hill of Auburn on Aug. 6. . . . Their third daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Scott of New Orleans last month.

Col. Collier H. Davidson has returned from a tour of duty in Hawaii and is now deputy wing commander at Altus Air Force Base, Altus, Okla.

The Golden Year—On Sept. 2 James W. Watson MS '31 and Mrs. Eva North Watson of Auburn observed their golden wedding anniversary. They met in summer school at Harvard University in 1906. Mr. Watson was a school principal in various Alabama high school and then superintendent of Opelika city schools for 13 years before they moved to Auburn in 1933. Since then he had been in the insurance business here until his recent retirement. Living a moderate and active life is Mr. Watson's formula for longevity. The Watsons have a daughter, Mrs. E. V. Smith of Auburn.

Mrs. Martha Hay Vardeman of Tuscaloosa received her Doctor of Education degree from the University of Alabama in August.

New Addresses: John E. Wurlete, Charleston, S. C.; William S. Dennis, Jr., Whitefish Bay, Wisc.; The Rev. Robert S. Barefield, Rolla, Mo.; Herbert Moore, Birmingham; Charles C. Hortenstine, Belle Glade, Fla.; Mrs. Clarence H. Huhman, Stone Mountain, Ga.; Julius M. Langley, Atlanta, Ga.; Lt. Col. Stephen A. Grant, Carmel, Calif.; Charles G. Cherry, Burlington, N. C.; Paul Willis, Atlanta, Ga.

1949

Edward E. Cobb is assistant to the operating manager of Gulf Power Company in Pensacola, Fla.

Hubert C. Bailey and his wife Louise Smith Bailey are the managers of the Lane Drug Store on Second Ave., Midfield Park Shopping Center, Birmingham.

Victor C. Zimmer is with Standard Brands, Inc., of Montgomery.

John W. Stair is director of guidance and student life at Atlantic District Christian College in Wilson, N. C.

F. W. (Bill) Haas of Atlanta is the new vice president of the Georgia Football Officials Association. He and his wife, Virginia Ann Halcombe '49, have three children—Ricky, 9, Ned, 8, and Elizabeth Ann, born June 29, 1959.

Dr. Charles A. Walton of Lexington, Ky., has been named Man of the Year in Pharmacy by the Kentucky Council of Pharmaceutical Education. Dr. Walton, who received his MS and PhD degrees at Purdue, is professor and head of the Department of Materia Medica at the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy. He is married to the former Joyce McIntosh and they have two children—Charles, Jr., and Kendall.

Born: A son, Michael Murphy, to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Armor (Jean Tanner '47) of Auburn on Aug. 3.

New Addresses: Capt. James M. Blow, Los Angeles, Calif.; Edward W. Drake, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.; Claude V. Williams, Marietta, Ga.; Paul W. Green, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Berry, New Orleans, La.; Charles A. Thompson, Jr., Bellflower, Calif.; Bruce Whately, Abbeville; Edward P. Prigmore, Lookout Mountain, Tenn.; Ralph T. Jackson, Memphis, Tenn.; Harry H. Bell, Jr., Gulfport, Miss.; William E. Daddail, Memphis, Tenn.; Elbert L. Owen, Rt. 3, Athens.

George T. Burton is with the Good-year Service Store in Gainesville, Ga.

James R. Murphy is with the Area

Office of the Tennessee Valley Authority in Cleveland, Tenn.

1950

Will Matt Quinn, Jr., is with General Electric Co. in Utica, N. Y.

Perry G. Myer is an industrial engineer with Well Lamont Corp. in Philadelphia, Miss.

Richard Lowe Hundley is the presiding judge of Morgan County Court in Decatur.

Charles P. Taylor has been promoted to divisional manager for industrial sales of Reynolds Metals Co. in St. Louis. He is supervising industrial market sales in a division comprising all, or portions, of Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

Born: A son, Charles Benson, III, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Bottoms, Jr., of Miami, Fla., on July 26. Charles, III, joins a welcoming older sister, Beverly. Charles, Jr., is district representative for the Coca-Cola Company. . . . A son, Harry Davidson, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Poole (Mae Hall '52) of Forest Home on Sept. 3.

W. H. Whittlesey, Jr., has accepted a position with the Henry B. Gilpin Wholesale Drug Co. in Dover, Del. With him in Dover are his wife, Yvonne Cargile '50, and daughter, Ginger.

Frank Killough is teaching in the Auburn public schools. He has previously taught at Gordo and Tuskegee.

Mercer L. Threlkeld is with General Electric Co. in Los Angeles, Calif.

New Addresses: Jacob B. Champion, Greenville; Barney L. Shull, Fairhope; George M. Spivey, Andalusia; Mrs. Evelyn Blake Johnson, Collinsville; Nathan T. Barnett, Hicksville, N. Y.; Chester E. Cline, Athens; James A. Robbins, Miami, Fla.; Capt. Earl E. Daly, Jr., Ft. Monmouth, N. J.; Curtis C. Boone, Pensacola, Fla.

Raphael P. Thompson is with Crawford & Company in Florence.

1951

Roland Granger is now assistant county agricultural agent in Lee County with offices in Opelika.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Terry (Mary Anne Watson '53) and son, John, Jr., live in Ft. Walton Beach, Fla. John is employed by Boeing Airplane Company.

Wallace Burgess, formerly assistant agricultural editor with the API Agricultural Extension Service, has resigned

(Continued on page 8)

Wreck Tech—The same old spirit prevails at the Wreck Tech pep rallies nowadays, but each year the line of pajama clad participants gets longer and longer—and younger and younger, too, it seems. However, the contagious enthusiasm of the youngsters is almost as good for elders as a sip from the Fountain of Youth.

A New Era—With a minor modification in spelling and considerable alteration of activities Auburn fraternities this year consigned to the past the traditional Hell Week for pledges and inaugurated Help Week instead. Performing their chores according to the dictates of the new era, the TKE pledges above cleared construction debris from the streets in front of new married students apartments.

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

his post in Auburn to accept a position in the product training department of Ford Tractor and Implement Division in Vienna, Ga.

Kate G. Gordon is teaching at Catoma School in Montgomery.

James G. Beasley, Jr., is a member of the faculty at Memphis State College, Memphis, Tenn.

Stephen H. Blair, Jr., has his own architectural firm in Hattiesburg, Miss.

Frances M. Latham is now working for the Washington Post & Times Herald in Washington, D. C., after three and one-half years with the Los Angeles Times in Los Angeles, Calif.

John W. Webb, Jr., is assistant engineer with the L&N Railroad Co. in Louisville, Ky.

Capt. and Mrs. Guy E. Peterson (Annie L. Fretwell '54) have returned from Germany and are living in Lawton, Okla., while he is stationed at Ft. Sill.

Born: A daughter, Sharon Elise, to Dr. and Mrs. Sage D. Copeland (Emory Kinney '54) of Birmingham on Aug. 20 . . . A son, Michael Laird, to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. McGarity, Jr., of Birmingham on July 27.

Adopted: A month-old-son, Paul Eli, by Dr. and Mrs. Mack H. Ivey (Mahla Haggard '51) of Columbia, Mo., in August . . . A daughter, Mary Angelyn, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Reese Brown, Jr. (Claudia Taylor '52) on Aug. 13. Mary Angelyn was born on June 7, 1959. The Browns also have a seven-year-old son, Reese, III.

Married: Fay Bush to Lt. (jg) Paul Laverne Schillings in Auburn on Sept. 26.

New Addresses: Capt. William E. Skinner, Montgomery; Otis D. Fincher, Ashland; Joseph P. Johnson, Collinsville; Teddy N. Scott, Natchitoches, La.; Mr. and Mrs. James M. McGowen '49, (Joy Thigpen '51), Mobile; William T. Dowdle, Jr., Trussville; Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. McCollum, Birmingham; Dr. John H. Watt, Decatur, Ga.; John H. Simmons, Jr., Columbus, Ga.; Robert F. Solley, Rt. 2, Columbus, Ga.

1952

1/Lt. and Mrs. Joseph W. House (Sue Hughes '58) and baby son, Mark, are living in Mainz, Germany.

Marcia V. Bowers is teaching at Baldwin High School in Montgomery.

Oscar C. Fewell, Jr., has been promoted to the rank of captain in the Artillery.

William T. Achor is with RCA's laboratories in Princeton, N. J.

Mrs. Mary Katherine (Tina) Whitson Dupke and her husband, Capt. Carl F. Dupke, an instructor at West Point, live in Newburgh, N. Y.

Capt. and Mrs. Kelly H. Burke, Jr. (Denny Ray Hosey '52), are now stationed in Tokyo, Japan, for a two-year tour of duty.

Hoyt Morrow is employed by Convair, a division of General Dynamics Corporation, in Ft. Worth, Tex.

Born: A son, David Gardner, to Mr. and Mrs. James V. Wade, (Melissa Woolf '52) of Fairfield on Sept. 4 . . . A son, David King, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Clay (Marjorie Groth '51), of Auburn on Aug. 23.

Married: Dr. Nola Mae Moore and James Howard Dahlen in Barron, Wisc., in August. He is a junior at the University of Wisconsin Medical School, from which his wife received her medical degree last year. . . . Katie Marie LaFoy to Henry Mandeville Ufford, Jr. in Montgomery on Sept. 24.

New Addresses: Thomas A. Howell, Whittier, Calif.; Lt. Robert M. Moulthrop, Ft. Knox, Ky.; Dan M. Crane, Pensacola, Fla.; Charles B. Mathews, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. James D. Randall (Mary A. Shippey '54), Valrico, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wood (Virginia Young Wood '55) New Orleans, La.

1953

Milton Sheppard is teaching at Goodwyn Junior High School in Montgomery.

W. R. Sharman, formerly assistant Extension Agricultural Agent in Franklin County, has assumed duties as assistant agricultural editor with the API Agricultural Extension Service in Auburn. Sharman and his wife, Charlene Burley '57, have one child.

Ray Don Estes is a biologist for H. Woolf & Son, fish farm, in Tampa, Fla. He was formerly a biologist for the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission.

Louise Carpenter is teaching at Sylacauga High School in Sylacauga.

Raymond W. Warren, Jr., is with McBurney Stoker & Equipment Co. in Atlanta.

Richard W. Prouty is pursuing doctoral studies at the University of Maryland.

John P. Figh is assistant to the vice-president of new products development at Burlington Industries Fabrics Co. in New York City.

Born: A daughter, Beverlye, to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Nixon (Emily Whatley '53) of Auburn on July 27 . . . A daughter, Helen, to Mr. and Mrs. Olin G. Pinkston, Jr., of Shorter on Aug. 15 . . . A son, John Michael, to Mr. and Mrs. John Hubert Bonner, Jr., of Wetumpka on Sept. 1.

Married: Cora Avie Dickie to Edward Lynn Boyd in Albertville on Sept. 19 . . . Phyllis Maureen Aldous to Lawrence Hudson Russell in East Orange, N. J., on Oct. 3 . . . Eugenia Malone to Harold Zallen in Camp Hill on Aug. 23. They are living in West Lafayette, Ind.,

Indiana Town Named For Alumnus

TAMPLIN, Ind.—A 54-year-old fertilizer salesman from Ozark, Ala., joined the ranks of the generals and the saints here Tuesday as folks came from miles around to see this "town" named in his honor.

Louie Tamplin '28, Virginia-Carolina Chemical Corp's "Salesman of the Year," stood beaming and misty-eyed as the band played "Dixie," a railroad sign was unveiled, and certificates were presented officially establishing Tamplin as an "unincorporated community."

The ceremony, attended by an estimated 400 persons, capped a two-day program honoring the VC salesman who works out of the company's Montgomery sales office. Tamplin had piled up the most points in a sales contest for Virginia-Carolina's 150 fertilizer salesmen.

The "town" of Tamplin in this productive farm country 30 miles south of Terre Haute has a population of four—two farm couples. It will also be the home of a new Virginia-Carolina fertilizer plant and it is an official junction of the Monon Railroad which will serve the V-C plant.

When the railroad asked Virginia-Carolina to name the junction, V-C decided to name it after its salesman of the year.

Tamplin, a V-C salesman for 23 years, rode the private car of Monon president Carl A. Bick from Chicago to Bloomington, Ind., on Monday. A special train took him to Tamplin Tuesday.

As the Alabamian stepped onto the platform of the presidential car, a high school band from nearby Jasonville struck up with "Dixie" then followed with "Indiana, Our Indiana."

Jasonville Mayor Earl Row welcomed Tamplin. John L. French assistant to general sales manager at Virginia-Carolina, unveiled the sign proclaiming "Tamplin." French also read a message from V-C president Justin Potter.

Edwin B. Long, judge of Greene Circuit Court, presented citizenship certificates from the Indiana secretary of state to the two farm families and to Virginia-Carolina. — Reprinted from The Montgomery Advertiser of Aug. 30.

1954

Belinda F. Porterfield teaches at Harrison School in Montgomery.

Melville W. Fuller, Jr., has received a National Science Foundation scholarship and is working for a PhD in science education at the University of North Carolina.

Mary A. Houston is now Mrs. Gene C. Wesley and resides at Seagrove Beach, Point Washington, Fla.

William A. Manly, Jr., is in charge of the physics division of Orr Industries Research Dept. in Opelika. He, his wife, (Patricia Lasseter '53), and their child, Erika, are residing in Auburn.

(Continued on page 9)

The War Eagle Lighter

Regular $8.95

$5.25

Special Alumni Price

A snap of the finger and you get a light . . . the tiny music box plays "War Eagle!" Pictured above, this full-size lighter is finished in handsome orange and blue baked enamel! The perfect gift! Guaranteed against defects.

Clip and Mail Today

Or send your check for $5.25 with your name and address to:

Auburn Alumni Office

API

Auburn, Alabama

Send to Auburn Alumni Office

API, Auburn, Alabama

Enclosed is my check for $5.25. Please send my Musical Lighter to:

Name _____

Address _____

In Memoriam — '93 Through '52

Edward B. Mell '93, one of Georgia's leading high school educators, died in Athens, Ga., on August 21, 1959, at the age of 86. Mr. Mell had been hospitalized for three weeks prior to his death.

As a high school principal for 48 years, Mr. Mell had seen at least 10,000 young Georgians under his supervision receive high school diplomas. He became the first principal of Athens High School upon its establishment in 1909; he served in that post for 34 years and then at age 70 became principal at nearby Danielsville for three years. Prior to 1909 he directed the Baxter Street School in Athens for 11 years.

Mr. Mell came from a family of educators. His father, Dr. Patrick H. Mell, was a member of the University of Georgia faculty for 32 years, serving the last 10 as chancellor.

Clark County (Georgia) is honoring the late Auburn alumnus by naming a new junior high school gymnasium for him and by establishing a high school scholarship fund as a tribute to him.

Harry Howell Smith '95 (MS '96) died at his home in Richmond, Va., September 23, 1959, at the age of 83. An electrical engineer, Mr. Smith was a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society and a former director of the National Artistic Lighting Equipment Association.

A native of Auburn, Mr. Smith was a member of the Auburn A Club, the Auburn Alumni Association, the Virginia Boat Club, the Presbyterian Church, and a former member of the Commonwealth Club and Sons of the Revolution.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Julia Hill Moore Smith '98; a son, Otis David Smith of Springfield, Va., and two grandchildren.

Col. Noble J. Wiley '97 of Washington, D. C., died on December 3, 1957.

Col. John Hunt Skeggs '01, developer of San Francisco freeways and San Francisco district engineer for the California State Division of Highways for more than three decades, died at his ranch home near Saratoga, Calif., on August 28, 1959, after a long illness. He was 76.

He assumed the San Francisco highway post in 1919. Prior to that time he worked on railroads, the Owen Valley-Los Angeles aqueduct, and as county surveyor for Los Angeles. During World War I he saw duty in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives as an officer in the Corps of Engineers with the Second American Army. He was discharged as a colonel.

Among the projects that he directed was that of building the approaches to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Survivors include his wife, Ellanette, and a sister, Mrs. William Crawford of Decatur.

Martin A. Pool '06 of Memphis, Tenn., died on April 20, 1959, after a long illness. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Louise Pool, of Memphis.

William R. (Bill) Holley '08, retired druggist and former mayor of Atmore, died in Atmore on September 11, 1959, at the age of 76, after a long illness.

A native of Abbeville, he had resided in Atmore for 48 years and served as mayor of that city for 8 years and as a member of the Atmore City Council for another six years.

Mr. Holley won the enduring friendship and admiration of the people of his adopted city. In 1955 Atmore celebrated "Bill Holley Day" on June 13.

Mr. Holley was a life member of the Auburn Alumni Association.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ruth Bradley Holley; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Clenney of Montgomery; and a brother, A. M. Holley of Coffeeville, Miss.

Col. Leon T. Weaver of Route 1, Brewton, died on January 23, 1959.

Donald J. Bull '20 of Laurens, S. C., died on February 21, 1959.

John S. Kernachan '20, a retired U.S. engineer, died at his home in Florence on September 10, 1959, at the age of 62. He had been associated with the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville.

Survivors include his wife; a son, John S. Kernachan of Atlanta; two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Glover of Guntersville and Bertha Kernachan of Florence; and two grandchildren.

James Wyatt Pippin '24, member of the Auburn A Club and Kappa Alpha fraternity, died at his home in Birmingham on September 10, 1959.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jeanne Pippin; and two daughters, Misses Jeannine and Hettie Pippin of Birmingham.

Rowell McGaully '29, a lifelong resident of Montgomery, died on August 12, 1959. He was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, the Presbyterian Church, and the Optimist Club. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Katherine Clay McGaully MED '56, principal of Highland Gardens Elementary School in Montgomery; four brothers, Carlton McGaully, Pensacola, L. R. McGaully, Birmingham, Emmett McGaully, Houston, Tex., and Sterling McGaully, Montgomery; one sister, Miss Kate McGaully, Montgomery; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Miss Margaret J. Thompson '43 of Gadsden died on August 29, 1959.

Walter L. Weeks, Sr., MED '52, Gadsden director of recreation and widely-known Alabama sports figure, died in a Gadsden Hospital on September 28, 1959, at the age of 52.

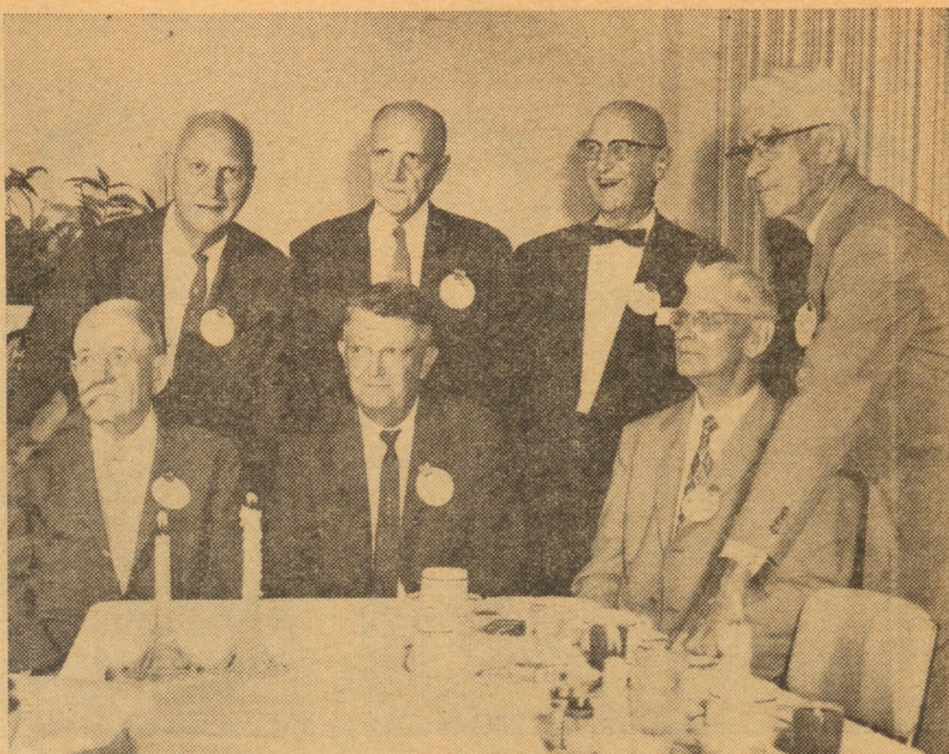

Mr. Weeks had previously served as head football coach at Cherokee County High in Centre and as an assistant coach at both Gadsden and Emma Sansom High Schools. He was principal of East Gadsden Junior High when he became recreation director nine years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Fay Robinette Weeks; a son, W. L. Jr., of Gadsden; and a daughter, Mrs. Haden Staggs of Huntsville.

We Do Have An Admiral— Henry S. Persons '27

Some alumni missed our July notation of recognition to Rear Admiral Henry S. Persons '27, who to-date comprises our list of Auburn admirals. If you know of others, please drop a line to The Alumnews.

In the meantime our list of Auburn alumni generals stands at twenty-four. The ladies in the Alumni Association front office are keeping a cumulative list of both admirals and generals, which The Alumnews will publish periodically as additions come in.

The Young In Spirit—Members of the Class of 1907 are a dauntless crew. When they returned for their 50th anniversary reunion in 1957 the rain fell and the air was a bitter chill as Auburn played Kentucky. This year they returned earlier for the Hardin-Simmons game on October 3 and the weather simulated a hot day in July. In neither case were their spirits dampened or withered. Shown above are (standing, l. to r.) James Esdale, Dr. R. C. Williams, The Rev. Norman B. McLeod, and Eugene S. Pace; (seated, l. to r.) William Hardie, H. D. Long, and Thurman H. Robertson (See second '07 reunion picture below).

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

1/Lt. Joe Stegall was recently transferred from Greenville AFB, Miss., to Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio, where he will study a two-year course in aeronautical engineering at the Air Force Institute of Technology. He and his wife, Eleanor Allen '53, have three sons destined for Auburn in 15 to 20 years.

William J. Barrow is an electrician with John O'Donnell Electric in Mobile.

Donald Merkel

Ernest L. Birdsong is with the Alabama Power Company in Tuscaloosa.

R. Meade Guy is the principal of the Baldwin Junior High School in Montgomery. He and his wife, the former Bebe Sherman, have two children—Lanette and Robert Meade.

Born: A son, Franklin B., III, to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. (Sonny) Sellers, Jr. (Dorothy McKay) of Luverne on Sept. 12. They also have a daughter, Susan. Sonny is traveling the tri-state area of Alabama, Florida, and Georgia for Hicks Tackle Co. of Luverne. . . . A son, Russell Kern, to Mr. and Mrs. James K. Haygood, Jr., of Auburn on July 27. . . . A daughter, Hollie Kristina to Mr. and Mrs. Larry W. Puckett (Ruby Nelle Parker '54) of Hattiesburg, Miss. on March 27. Mrs. Puckett's husband is a student at Mississippi Southern University. They have another daughter, Laurel Lynn, 3.

Married: Marian Dodd Whitman to Thomas Patrick Hughes in Atlanta on Sept. 26. He is an Atlanta architect.

New Addresses: James J. Baird, Jr., Danville, Va.; Murray K. Barnard, Savannah, Ga.; Robert C. Johnson, Massena, N. Y.; Eustace S. Blair, Jr., Tallahassee, Fla.; Olan B. Cunningham, Red Bay; Thomas W. Abbott, Jr., Birmingham; Hubert E. Britnell, Birmingham; Calvin H. Duggin, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Charles N. Kraselsky, Birmingham; Capt. Leon E. Pappanastos, Homewood; H. William Currie, III, New Orleans, La.

John M. Ross is with Chemstrand Corp. in Pensacola, Fla. He is married to Fay Mezick '55.

1955

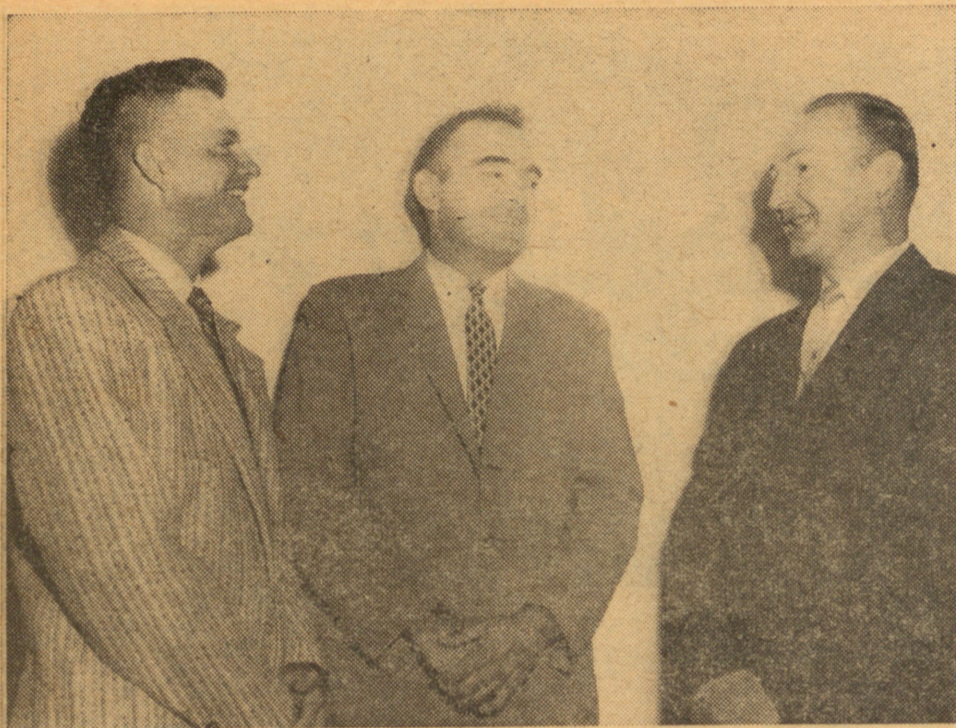

Victor L. Wilson has been promoted from lieutenant junior grade to lieutenant.

(Continued on page 10)

Co-eds Were Scarce In 1907—but members of the Class of 1907 bring Auburn a charming group of adopted daughters each time that they return to The Plain. Class member Miss Leland Cooper (third from right) feels at home with her adopted classmates—(l. to r.) Mrs. William Hardie, Mrs. H. D. Long, Mrs. Thurman Robertson, Mrs. James Esdale, Mrs. Ralph Williams, (Miss Cooper), Mrs. Norman B. McLeod, and Mrs. Eugene S. Pace.

Brave Young Men—This trio possesses the courage necessary to yell "War Eagle" in the city where a resurgent Crimson Tide rolls under the direction of a fierce "Bear." They are the new officers of the very active Tuscaloosa Auburn Club. Shown (l. to r.) are Norman Kent '51, vice president; W. G. Baccus '48, president; and T. A. Sims, Jr., '49, secretary-treasurer.

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

David Hinton (Hoppy) Middleton received his medical degree from the University of Tennessee College of Medicine on Sept. 21.

Mrs. Katherine Boulter Hamer is living in Rotterdam Junction, N. Y., while her husband is working with General Electric Co. at Schenectady.

Frederick F. Denton, Jr., has completed a tour of Armed Forces duty in Japan and is with the Alabama Power Co. in Birmingham.

John S. Parke is a chemical engineer with the special assignment program of the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland, Mich.

Richard V. Slaker, Jr., is living in Greenville, S. C., and is South Carolina sales representative for The Stanley Works, Steel Strapping Division of New Britain, Conn. He was married in June.

Born: A daughter, Katherine, to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Piper of Auburn on Aug. 3.

Married: Barbara Silvia to James Connor Kinnard in Middletown, R. I., on Oct. 10. He is a physicist with Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N. Y. . . . Peggy Joyce Harper to John Matthew Raines, Jr., in Evergreen on Oct. 4. He is general manager of the radio station in Evergreen . . . Jo Ann Hopkins to John C. Strickland on May 30, 1959. They are living in Port Arthur, Tex. . . Elizabeth Howell Harwell to Charles Vernon Horne in Huntsville on Oct. 4. They are living in Huntsville, where both are employed by the Army Ballistics Missile Agency.

Frances E. Crabtree is now Mrs. Raymond D. Stone of Route 1, Wetumpka.

New Addresses: William O. Smallwood, Clearwater, Fla.; 1/Lt. Albert L. Scott, Ft. Riley, Kans.; Calvin T. Morton, Towson, Md.; Billy J. Eidson, Columbia, S. C.; Durward E. Chastain, Clinton, Tenn.; Mrs. Janiece Bryant Nichols, Mobile; Mrs. Constance Garner Parke, Midland, Mich.; Douglas H. Easterwood, Panama City, Fla.; James R. Hathcock, Shreveport, La.; Dr. William W. Walker, Williamsburg, Va.; Dr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Nowell (Marcia McKinney '55), Gainesville, Fla.; James M. Thurman, Mars Hill, N. C.; John L. Grace, Jr., Vicksburg, Miss.; Truman P. Poole, Jr., Atlanta; Dr. Neil E. Christopher, Guin.

1956

Mrs. Inez Norton Edwards is teaching in the Auburn public schools.

Mrs. Shirley Morgan Moncrief is teaching at Highland Avenue School in Montgomery.

Edgar Peterson teaches at Goodwyn Junior High School in Montgomery.

Mrs. Nancy Boyd Stubbs teaches at Cloverdale School in Montgomery.

John P. Bryant is with the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA in Cullman.

Mrs. Clara Roden McGriff teaches English at Sardis High School. She, her husband, Bill McGriff '58, and sons, Kent and Joel, live in Albertville.

1/Lt. and Mrs. Paul Brannon (Nancy Smith '55) are stationed at Homestead AFB at Miami, Fla., where he is flying B-47 Bombers for the Strategic Air Command. They have two sons—Joey, 2, and Jeff, 3 months.

Lt. and Mrs. John W. Morrison (Helen Ellis '56) are living in Butzbach, Germany, where he is on duty with the Infantry.

W. B. Nickerson, Jr., has completed a three-year tour with the Navy and is residing in Montgomery at present.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Taylor (Catherine Cole Taylor) are living in Atlanta, where he has been elected president of the Northeast Atlanta Sertoma Club and she is serving as president of the Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Club of Atlanta. Their daughter, Kitty, 1½, is practicing her War Eagle yells.

James T. Maddox is work unit supervisor for East Tennessee, of the Tennessee Area, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, Plant Pest Control Division. He is married to the former Mary Jane Shipton of Hayti, Missouri. Mrs. Maddox is a graduate of the University of Missouri and took her master's degree in education from the University of Mississippi. They now live in Knoxville, Tenn.

Charles A. McDade, III, is an engineer with Caldwell-Rhoads Engineering Co. in Jacksonville, Ill. His firm does consulting engineering for bridges, streets, sewers, and water systems.

J. Gaston Edmondson is now with the People's Bank in Montgomery. He is married to the former Jo Williams and they have two children, Bill and Leigh.

George O. Oldham is back at API pursuing graduate studies in building construction.

Robert S. Glover is now assistant professor of economics at Austin Peay State College in Clarksville, Tenn.

Born: A son, Mark Everett, to Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Claude E. McLain, Jr., (Sonya Elizabeth Ellette '57) of Ft. George, Md., on Aug. 25. They also have a daughter, Sharon. Mark Everett is, of course, the grandson of Claude E. McLain, Sr., '26 . . . A daughter, Cherylyn, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Spring of Manchester, Tenn., on Feb. 12 . . . A daughter, Debora Ann, to Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hannigan, Jr., of Birmingham on April 17, 1959. Pappa is working with Southern Bell Telephone Co. as a junior engineer . . . A daughter, Katherine Lyn, to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Watt, Jr. (Jackie Tyndale), of Atlanta on June 23. John is with the Art Department of Stein Printing Co. in Atlanta . . . A son, Robert Allen, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Henn (Ann

Auburn Club News

Tuscaloosa Elects Officers

Tuscaloosa Auburn Club met Oct. 1 to elect officers and lay plans for coming activities. New officers are W. G. Baccus '48, president; Norman Kent '51, vice-president; T. A. Sims, Jr., '49, secretary-treasurer.

Currie) on March 30, 1959. Robert, Sr., is now plant supervisor for Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Brewton.

Lt. (jg) John R. Stephens is on duty aboard the USS Independence.

James R. Osborn, Jr., of Bayside, Va., has been promoted from lieutenant junior grade to lieutenant.

Married: Jane Ann Wicker of Erie, Pa., to James M. Guy on June 20. They are living in Battle Creek, Mich. . . . Louise Sanford '51 to Ernest Samuel Butner in Prattville on Oct. 18.

New Addresses: Mrs. Janet Chandler Hogan, Dallas, Tex.; William D. Wilson, Zion, Ill.; Thomas F. Burnside, Wedowee; Robert W. Britt, Decatur, Ga.; Jack C. Beasley, Opp; Thomas W. Fuller, Miami, Fla.; Sidney V. Fillingim, Birmingham; Forney W. McClellan, Waverly, Tenn.; Alan P. Shewmaker, Atlanta, Ga.

Billy J. Arther, Woodbury, Ga.; Charles P. Cope, Andalusia; Glen A. Parker, Arab; Joseph J. Kendall, Jr., Mary Esther, Fla.; Glenn Stephenson, Jr., Marietta, Ga.; Frank R. Watson, Luverne; Lt. James B. Powell, Little Rock AFB, Ark.; Patricia Yarbrough, Turin, Ga.; Jimmy L. Rosser, Galax, Va.; Joe M. Smith, Eglin AFB, Fla.; William B. Etheridge, Burlington, N. C.; Thomas S. Tucker, Leeds; Dr. and Mrs. William R. Sinclair (Ruth Reynolds '55) Bogalusa, La.; 1/Lt. Phillip L. Lindsey, McChord AFB, Washington.

1957

Byron B. Nelson, Jr., is teaching at Capitol Heights Junior High School in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGlamery have moved into their new house in Florence. Mr. McGlamery is in design engineering with Ford Motor Co., after having completed a two-year training program in die casting at the company's plant in Sheffield.

William I. Smith is an engineer with Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Birmingham. He and his wife have already bought a new home in Roebuck.

Robert E. Wade is studying at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and is pastor of the Cropper Baptist Church, Cropper, Ky.

James L. McCorkle, Jr., has been promoted from ensign to lieutenant junior grade. He is on duty aboard the USS Falgout (DER 324).

Richard P. Price is an engineer with Westinghouse in Pittsburgh. With him in Pittsburgh are his wife and son, Eddie.

Dr. John O. Parrish, who graduated from the University of Alabama Dental College, is now on duty with the U. S. Naval Dental Corps at Pearl Harbor. He will serve two years before going into private practice.

Donald H. Smith, Jr., has completed a tour of duty as an ensign in the Navy and is now with Smith's Bakery in Mobile.

John E. Lee, Jr., formerly an assistant in Agricultural Economics at API, has resigned to begin doctoral studies in economics at Harvard University. He is married to Alice Herren Lee MS '58. They have a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, born on June 13.

Douglas G. Hodnett has been promoted from private-first class to SP/4.

John E. Pomeroy is with the Rome Craft Co. in Rome, Ga.

Mitchell L. (Mickey) Thompson is with the Aluminum Company of America in Atlanta, Ga.

William T. Ramsey, Jr., is with IBM in Birmingham.

Louis W. Pruitt is serving with the 3rd Armored Division in Glenhausen, Germany, where he is a medic with the 48th Infantry.

Carl Goggins is editor of The Houston Herald in Dothan, where he is evidently

The Club's Board of Directors for the 1959-60 year is composed of Dr. Rufus O. Moore '38, chairman; R. C. Lett '13; Troy Ingram '47; Dickie Flournoy '50; and John Williams '50.

Present plans call for the Club to hold another meeting on Oct. 29 with the Georgia Tech film on program. The Club plans a Dutch Supper for members and wives at the Hotel Stafford on Nov. 19. Members are also making plans for the annual Spring Barbecue in Moundville.

BESSEMER ELECTS OFFICERS

Newly-elected officers for the Bessemer Auburn Club are Charles R. Jaeger '32, president; Henry W. Sweet '24, vice-president; and J. Douglas Peques '50, secretary-treasurer.

Executive committee members are Robert T. (Bobby) Lewis '51; J. Frank Robertson, Jr., '46; Anthony Schilleci; W. L. (Bill) Grimes; B. Clay Jones, Jr., '32; Col. M. D. Johnson, '26, ex officio.

PIEDMONT ALUMNI MEET

The Piedmont (N. C.) Auburn Club met in August in Greensboro, N. C., with 48 members and guests attending.

Assistant Tiger Coach Vince Dooley discussed the outlook for the 1959 football season. Coach Dooley's presence at the meeting brought out an alumnus who had not seen an Auburn coach since the days of the late, beloved Coach Mike Donahue.

Veterinary Grad Serves As Gorilla's Dentist

Auburn graduates in veterinary medicine may specialize, but many of them go into a general practice that requires a high degree of versatility.

Dr. Charles R. Swearingen '42, newly-elected president of the North Carolina State Veterinary Medical Association and owner and operator of the Willowrun Veterinary Hospital in Smithfield, N.C., has treated a number of unusual animals in addition to the normal run of farm animals and pets, both urban and rural.

Once when a carnival company came through town, he was called upon to extract a couple of teeth for a suffering gorilla. He has served as the family doctor for such assorted animals as a baboon, a groundhog, monkeys, squirrels, foxes, coons, ducks and birds.

building quite a reputation as a journalist with undisciplined integrity.

Mrs. Frances Golden McDaniel is living in Livermore, Calif., where her husband, Alonzo Maurice '59, does research testing for Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, operated by the University of California as a sub-contractor for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Born: A son, George Ray, III, to Mr. and Mrs. George Ray Breeden, Jr. (Mary Sue Beasley '60), of Birmingham on Aug. 8 . . . A son, Richard Alan, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn (Margaret Ledbetter '57) of Auburn on Aug. 30 . . . A son, John Paul, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Hansen of Huntington, West Va., on June 28 . . . A daughter, Margaret Tillman, to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Beddow, Jr. (Elizabeth Morris '56) of Birmingham on Aug. 7.

Married: Judith Ann Jenkins of Radcliff, Ky., to James W. Huggins, Jr., in Vine Grove, Ky., on Dec. 6, 1958. He is employed with the U. S. Gypsum Co. in New Orleans, La. . . . Faye M. Anthony to Blanton Smith, Jr. They are living in Jackson, Miss. . . . Gertrude Howard to Henry John Baker, Jr., API senior in veterinary medicine, in Auburn on Aug. 26 . . . Elizabeth Stuart Brown '60 to Charles Edward Mundine, Jr., in Birmingham on Oct. 10 . . . Helen Dudley '59 to Julian G. Whatley. They are living in Triangle, Va., while Lt. Whatley is on duty at Manassas.

New Addresses: Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cleveland (Barbara Pope '57), Bastrop, La.; George C. Robbins, Mobile;

(Continued on page 11)

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

'MISSILE' BEARS GEORGIA TECH'S NAME—

William F. Cosby, Rockford, Tenn.; Vernon W. Gibson, Jr., Bayside, Va.; Roger R. Chase, Pensacola, Fla.; F. Stewart Myers, Jr., Severna Park, Md.; Sidney R. Wynn, Ft. Benning, Ga.; Robert H. Lewis, Birmingham; Dr. Charley P. Grissom, Memphis Tenn.; Robert W. LeDuc, Montgomery; Don H. Blackwell, Talladega; Lt. and Mrs. William R. Crawford (Lela Ann Caddell '57), Ft. Benning, Ga.

Ronald G. Davis, Eau Gallie, Fla.; Benny F. Whaddon, Abbeville; Benjamin B. Howell, Jr., Samson; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Stevens (Sally Slay '57), Albany, Ga.; Gordon M. Sherman, Anniston; Clifford R. Gilmore, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.; Bruce E. Hopper, West Warwick, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Donald Johnson (Wren Reader '57), Panama City, Fla.; Cecil Hawk, Green Cove Springs, Fla.; Daniel Stanford, Piedmont; Preston D. McAbee, Atlanta; Carl E. Colley, Decatur; Jerry D. Bell, Knoxville, Tenn. Lt. James S. Roy, Hunter AFB, Ga.; Lt. and Mrs. Max L. Rosenberg (Sylvia Williams '59), Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. Evelyn Vann Smith, Fern Park, Fla.; William F. English, Savannah, Ga.

1958

Isabelle Henderson is teaching at Bellingrath School in Montgomery.

Mrs. Annie Ruth Estes Mount and Mrs. Mary Celie Jones Whatley teach at Floyd School in Montgomery.

Mrs. Frances Smith Martin is teaching in the Auburn public schools.

Mrs. Juna Fincher Todd is living in Scotia, N. Y., with her husband, Dayton, who is employed by General Electric in Schenectady.

Lt. and Mrs. James R. Clinton and their two children, Cathy and Richie, are residing in Pensacola, Fla., where Lt. Clinton is in Flight Training.

Donald D. Battles is employed by Rocketdyne as a field engineer on Project Discoverer Satellite and Thor Missile Launchings at Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

James W. Thomas, Jr., has been promoted to Flight Test Engineer with Thiokol Chemical Corporation and is being transferred to Edwards AFB, Calif. He is married to the former Joyce Bentley.

Olis Lee Marshall received his MS degree from Ohio State University on Aug. 28.

Sandra Sue Raper is now Mrs. Richard Hearn of Dunn, N. C.

Mrs. Carol Watford Hand works with The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer in Columbus, Ga.

Lt. Benny J. Brown is on duty in Korea.

Nancy Elaine Smith is teaching the first grade at Miriam S. Brown Elementary School in Opelika and is beginning graduate studies at Auburn.

Randy Erickson has completed a tour of duty in the Army and is residing in Montgomery at present.

Susan Cross Stewart is teaching in the school system of Los Angeles County, Los Angeles, Calif.

2/Lt. Thomas Henry Hollingsworth is on duty with the Artillery in Porter, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Doerfer are living in Owingsville, Ky., where he is with Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

Walter D. (Don) Fay, Jr., has completed his tour with the Army and is now in Avondale Mills' sales training program in Ft. Payne.

Ens. James E. Brinkworth is on duty aboard the USS Mitscher (DL-2).

Robert Charles Lester is a professional service representative for Charles Pfizer & Co. in Rome, Ga. He is married to the former Sara Dell Carter and they have a daughter, Janis Claire, 9 months.

Allen Edward Davidson is a production specialist with the production engineering division of the Naval Aircraft Overhaul & Repair Dept., NAS, Pensacola, Fla. He and his wife, the former Mary Lou Herring, have a daughter, Deborah Clyde, 6.

Mary Elizabeth Tillery teaches home economics at Smith Station High School, Smith Station.

John J. Reh is an associate engineer in the Missile Armament Group, Aerospace Division, of the Boeing Airplane Co. in Seattle, Wash. He is working with the warhead of the Bomarc Guided Missile.

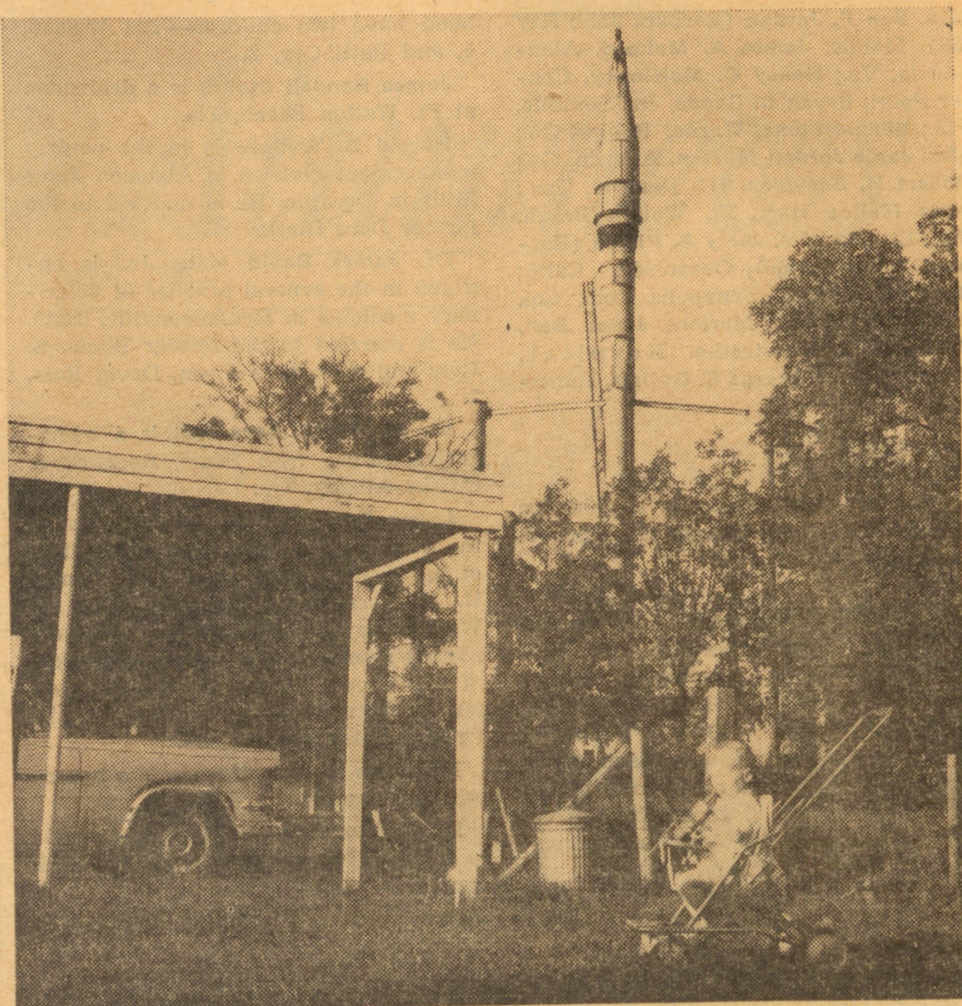

Mrs. Jewel Thomaston Browning has been a teacher of the sixth grade in Camp Hill Public Schools for the last fifteen years.

Mary Anne Gainey is teaching eighth grade language arts in the Elk Grove Grammar School, Elk Grove, Calif.

James L. Willcox, former industrial engineer with Westinghouse Electric in Baltimore, is an industrial engineer with U. S. Rubber in South Bend, Ind.

Born: A son, Lawrence Harold, III, to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Cave (Edna Bearden) of Mobile on Aug. 8 . . . A daughter, Cynthia Gail, to Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Lee in Lakeland Memorial Hospital on Aug. 3 . . . A son to Mr. and Mrs. William S. (Sammy) Simmons (Yvette Morgan '61) of Huntsville on Aug. 17 . . . A son, Mark Dolan, to Dr. and Mrs. William R. Klemm (Doris Mewha '57) at Vance AFB Hospital, Okla., on Aug. 24. Dr. Klemm is wing veterinarian, assistant preventive medicine officer, and laboratory officer for the 3575th USAF Hospital at Vance AFB . . . A daughter, Madeline Ruth, to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lohr (Jacqueline Jones '58), of Washington, D. C., on June 30.

Married: Bobbie Nell Barfoot to William David Rice in Chickasaw on Sept. 26 . . . Reitha DeLois Sims to Ens. Paul Fletcher Jackson in Savannah on Oct. 10 . . . Edith Helen Wade to Charles

Auburn Tot Plays With ICBM?—Well, not quite, as a red-faced Les King can now tell you. Conditioned by this jittery age of inter-planetary delusions, he spotted the scene above, photographed it, developed it, sent it to the wire services, and then sought an atom proof shelter. Emerging several hours later, he learned that the "rocket" was only Auburn's new water tank in the first stages of construction. By that time it had "Wreck Tech" written all over its uncompleted shell. Les argues that the "Wreck Tech" sign doesn't prove that students are more astute than he: "If they get half a chance, Auburn students will write 'Wreck Tech' not only on the first U. S. Rocket to the moon, but on the moon itself."

Charles H. Smith '93 Says—

Work For The Privilege Of Working

The privilege of working is the most important compensation in life, says Major Charles H. Smith '93 of Pittsburgh, Pa. This venerable senior alumnus—member of the first electrical engineering class to graduate from Auburn, the first Westinghouse EE graduate to go with one of the "Big Companies," and veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War I—has no patience with feather-bedding or a purely materialistic view of one's profession.

Next to the privilege of working, he ranks knowledge gained by experience, and he places financial reward at the bottom of the scale of compensations in life. He likes to see a job well done for the sake of pride in workmanship and as a fitting expression of appreciation to those who provide the privilege of working.

Maj. Smith served both his country and Westinghouse well. He began working with Westinghouse in 1894 as an inspector at the company's Garrison Alley Works in Pittsburgh. He secured the job through efforts of the Late Prof. McKissick, who knew South Eastern Sales Agent D. A. Tompkins of Charlotte, N. C. Prof. McKissick and Mr. Tompkins persuaded Westinghouse Vice President Bannister to give young Charles H. Smith a job.

He reported to Westinghouse on instructions to come to work and with the understanding that salary would be settled later. His first pay rate was 12 cents an hour; after three months, he was "inflated" to 16 cents per hour—the biggest pay increase, percentage-wise, that he ever received.

Major Smith served Westinghouse for 44 years, working with them from 1894 through 1938 without interruption, except for service with the Corps of Engineers in the Spanish-American War and World War I. He rose from an apprentice to assistant to M. B. Wyman, Westinghouse manager of Engineering and Service. Retiring in 1938, he answered a call to return to duty when World War II came and worked again for four years, retiring for the second time in 1947.

Retirement has meant no cessation of activity for him. The former Georgia native has been busily working on genealogy and establishing his family tree, work which takes him to New England as well as the South. Furthermore, he always has time to make some penetrating comments upon affairs, human and otherwise. For example, his letter accompanying the payment for his 1959-60 Alumni Association dues is dated "August 5—Sunny, Cloudy; Wet, Dry; Soggy, Sticky, Oozy—1959, A. D." That is the best description that we have heard of several days during the past August.

Richmond Crawford, Jr., in Birmingham in early October . . . Sandra Lorine Mauldin to Richard Arnold Turner in Birmingham on Oct. 9.

New Addresses: Bobbie A. Jones, Auburn; Jack B. Bruce, Birmingham; Lt. and Mrs. James A. LeCroy (Marcia Pitts '60), Ft. Monmouth, N. J.; Dr. Marcus F. Martin, Birmingham; Donald B. Mauldin, Fairfield; Dr. Billie L. Adels (Mrs. Harry N. Pennings), Houston, Tex.; Charles H. Cobb, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Max M. Hardwick, Decatur; Allen E. Davidson, Pensacola; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Drummond (Sandra Fuller '60), Alexandria, Va.; Jearald D. Cable, Birmingham; Hubert S. Summers, Dallas, Tex.; William M. Wallace, Jr., Tusculumbia; Sara Longshore, Belmont, N. C.; John R. Warren, Slocumb; Mary Anita Howard, Pensacola, Fla.; Dr. John D. Powell, Greenville, Tenn.; Jack Morris, Blountsville; Mrs. Jean Alvord Parker, Bareville, Pa.; Gordon G. Harvey, Memphis Tenn.; Henry M. Burt, Jr., Alexandria, Va.; George W. Sims, Lacey Springs; James E. Vice, Jr., Montgomery; Dan J. Presley, Andalusia; Mary Jane Lewis, Birmingham; Emily McCrary, Pine Hill; Mrs. Mary Waldrep McAbee, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and

(Continued on page 12)

Set for Homecoming is Auburn's 1959 majorette corps, composed of (l. to r.) Barbara Robison, Ft. Payne; Barbara Brown, Cedartown, Ga.; Bobbie Nell Northrop, Uriah; and Gayle Culver, Auburn.

ALUMNALITIES—Continued

Mrs. Ben F. Jordan (Barbara Jane Ray '58), Mobile; James A. McLeod, Alexandria, Va.; Nancy C. McKinney, Center Point; Bryan C. Goode, Jacksonville, Fla.; Donald Stone, Warner Robins, Ga.; Mrs. Janie Jordan Murton, Atlanta, Ga.; Robert H. Snowden, III, Denison, Tex.; John McRae Hart, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.; Lt. and Mrs. Jerry S. Pierce (Barbara Johnston '60), Oceanside, Calif.; Betty J. Neal, Indianapolis, Ind.; Col. James O. Wade, Marion; Janet Bell, Veterans Administration Hospital, Houston, Tex.; George E. Gullatt, Huntsville.

1959

Charlotte Ann Storey is a guidance director at Etowah County High School in Attalla.

June Moore

June Elizabeth Moore is a speech therapist at the Birmingham Speech & Hearing Center.

Oscar David Taunton is an assistant chemist in the Department of Toxicology in Birmingham.

Max H. Bass is an API instructor in the Department of Zoology-Entomology. He is married to the former Merle Findley.

William Comer Landers is an insurance adjuster for St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. in Birmingham. He is married to the former Sara Nell Sherrell and they have a son, William Mark, 1½.

Ens. Claire Thomas Dean, Jr., is with Company G at the Naval Supply Corps School in Athens, Ga.

Harriet Ann Taylor is a home economist with the Georgia Power Co. in Gainesville, Ga.

Charles Earle is with Brokeace in Mobile.

Ens. Edward Patton McCall is on duty aboard the USS Johnston (DD-821).

Frederick Lee Blake is with Connors Steel Division of H. K. Porter, Inc., in Birmingham.

John Fontaine Andrews is in the Law School of Tulane University.

Claude Edward Camp, Jr., is with the Retail Credit Co. in Auburn. He and his wife, the former E. Katherine Blackmon, have two sons—Claude E., III, and Charles Sanders, 3 months.

Dr. James Rufus Holladay is practicing veterinary medicine with the Evans Animal Clinic in Columbus. He is married to Jeanette Tiller '58.

Glen Porter Brock, Jr., is a student in Harvard Law School, Harvard University.

Barry Lynn Hooks is a textile management trainee in Shawmut. He is married to the former Ann Howell and they have a daughter, Jeanne Sherree, 3.

Donald R. Street is an API graduate student in agricultural economics. He and his wife, the former Mary Gardner, have a daughter, Deborah Irene, 4.

Donna Ann Foster teaches English in the Sylvan High School in Atlanta.

Mrs. Sandra Bosarge Cole teaches physical education at City High in Tuscaloosa. She is married to Carlton G. Cole '59.

Lucius Mahlon (Jake) Dyal, Jr., is a highway engineer with Dyal Construction Co. in Valdosta, Ga.

Mary Jane Wright teaches in Blount Junior High in Pensacola, Fla.

Ens. Clarence Joseph Chappell, III, is on duty aboard the USS Norfolk (DL-1).

Thomas Albert Carter is a student at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill. He is married to Marjorie Ann Jockisch, API student.

Aubrey Alfred Miller, Jr., is a procedures analyst with McDonnell Aircraft Corporation in St. Louis.

Ruben Maurice Williams is a junior forester with the U. S. Forest Service in Estacada, Oregon.

Mrs. Delores Cyr Reynolds MED '59 teaches in Notasulga. She and her husband have two children—Ted Watson, 4, and Patti Cyr, 2.

James Randell Stokes is a draftsman at Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.

Harold B. Wallace is in the poultry management division of Alabama Flour Mills in Decatur. He is married to the former Dora Clark.

Dr. James David Hale, Jr., is engaged in the general practice of veterinary medicine in Hendersonville, Tenn. He is married to the former Bloma S. Ross and they have a son, David Ross, 2.

Morris Rubin Avzaradel is a managerial trainee with Sears, Roebuck & Co. in Albany, Ga.

James C. Britton is an agronomist in the plant food development department of the United States Potash Division of U. S. Borax and Chemical Corp. in West Lafayette, Ind., where he is directing research and sales development of plant food borates for the midwestern and northwestern areas of the United States and Canada.

Mrs. Ann Blackwell Starr is a housewife in Weaver.

2/Lt. Titus Julian Smith is at Amarillo AFB in Texas, taking a twelve-week course for Supply Officers.

Carolyn Ann Brown is interning in laboratory technology at Piedmont Hospital in Atlanta.

Earnest Eugene Woodfin is a sales trainee with Moore-Handley Hardware Co. in Birmingham. He and his wife, the former Faye Brigrance, have a daughter, Pamela, 1½.

Walter H. Porter is at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. He plans to enter Baptist student work after graduation there.

2/Lt. John H. McCollum has completed the officer basic course at the Armor School in Ft. Knox, Ky.

J. Floyd Plummer is in the forestry department of Miller Lumber Co. in Selma.

William Eugene Brewer teaches mechanical drawing at Lanier High School in Montgomery.

Nan Haynie

Nan Marie Haynie is a graduate assistant at the University of Alabama.

Francelle Williams is a home service advisor for the Alabama Gas Corporation in the city of Montgomery.

Lonnie Julian Clayton, formerly a design engineer with RCA in Moorestown, N. J., has entered the University of Pennsylvania for graduate study.

Matilda Phillips is an intern in medical technology at the University Hospital in Birmingham.

Patricia P. Nelson teaches in the Forest Hills School of Fairfield.

Dr. James E. Gragg is engaged in the general practice of veterinary medicine in Clarksdale, Miss. He and his wife, the former Linda Murrelle, have two sons—Ken, 5, and Bill, 1.

Edwin Landon Crane, Jr., is a graduate student at the University of Alabama. He is married to the former Julie Hamilton Jones.

Thomas Ray Ingram is an aeronautical engineer with WRAMA at Robins AFB, Ga. He and his wife, the former Claudine Knop, have three children—Michael, 5, Lisa, 2, and Karen, 7 months.

Dr. David Bernard Aronson is a general practitioner of veterinary medicine in Pensacola, Fla. He and his wife, the former Shirlee Holmes, have three children—Cynthia, 6, Randall, 3, and Daniel, 1½.

Donald Ray Connell is an experimental engineer with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft in West Palm Beach, Fla.

2/Lt. Ewell H. Elliott, Jr., has completed the officer basic course at The Armor School, Ft. Knox, Ky.

Mrs. Ann Blizzard Sims is teaching first grade in Birmingham.

Thomas Emerson Stull teaches and coaches at Chamblee High in Chamblee, Ga.

THE YOUNG LADY HAD A CHANGE OF HEART—

Hunting season opened and Nancy Waller, an occupant of Dorm VI, skipped out with her trusty 22, bolt action. Along came a photographer with his trusty 35, flash attached, and frightened the game away—which explains the young lady's smile, for she had decided that she didn't want to shoot the poor little animals after all.

John Torbit Henry is a civil engineer in the Engineering Design Section, Watershed Operations State Office, Soil Conservation Service, Auburn.

Clark Real is a salesman for Graham Paper Co. in Birmingham. He is married to the former Gloria Jones.

Anne W. Herbert is a graduate student at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind.

Beverly Holbrook Cook is a service representative for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company in Warrenton, Fla.

George Thomas Crocker MS '59 is a graduate assistant in the API Mathematics Department, where he is pursuing studies leading to a Ph.D. He is married to the former Frances Jones.

Carolyn Drinkard is a stewardess with Eastern Air Lines.

Mary Ann Hydrick is a kindergarten teacher in Birmingham.

Lawrence Gilbert Griffis, a forester for Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. in Birmingham, has just undergone 9 weeks of Air Force basic training.

2/Lt. Robert Richard Long is in the 1st Student Officer Battery at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Donald Charles Colvin is an experimental engineer with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft at their Florida Research and Development Center, United, Fla.

Ens. Tilman E. Wheeler, Jr., is on duty aboard the USS Eldorado (AGC-11).

Mrs. Lottie G. Sparks is teaching fifth grade at Smiths in Lee County.

Ens. Stein

Ens. John Stanley (Sonny) Stein is stationed at Naha, Okinawa. Since he can't make the games this fall, he wants all of his old friends to yell an extra WAR EAGLE for him.

Jack Franks is a civil engineer with the Alabama State Highway Department in Cullman. In August he became an associate member of The American Society of Civil Engineers.

Dr. Joe Swaim Larmon practices veterinary medicine at the Animal Medical Clinic in Lakeland, Fla. He and his wife, the former Jane Ann Melton, have three daughters—Juli, Lisa, and Jana.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler R. Murton, Jr. (Grace J. Murton '58) are living in Atlanta, where he is an applied science representative with IBM.

Tommy Lorino is back in Bessemer and has hung up his professional football cleats for good according to a Birmingham News report by Paul Hemp-hill.

2/Lt. Murray Kidd, former Army National Guard sergeant, has completed the field artillery officer candidate course at the Artillery and Missile School at Ft. Sill, Okla.

George Howard Hill, Jr., is in the Air Force and is stationed at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Don G. Leithauser is Band Director at Dadeville High School, Dadeville.

Born: A son, George Hansel, III, to Mr. and Mrs. George H. Godwin, Jr. (Sara Alice Stephens '59), of Auburn on July 13.

Married: Claudette Newton to Edward Gene Pendelton in Pine Grove Methodist Church on Aug. 28. He is with Swift & Co. in Orlando, Fla. . . . Anna Bess Soberg '58 to Homer B. Tisdale, Jr., in Mobile on Aug. 29. They are living in Decatur . . . Martha Jane Johnston to Donald Calvin Cobb in College Park, Ga., on Oct. 17 . . . Patsy Elizabeth Naylor to George Arthur Slaughter in Opelika on May 2. They are living in Opelika . . . Virginia Rozelle to John M. Crawford '62 in Sylacauga on Aug. 29. They are living in Tuscaloosa, where he is attending the University of Alabama . . . Ann Blizzard to Raymond M. Sims on Aug. 8. They are living in Birmingham.

New Addresses: Jerold Bozeman, Johnston, S. C.; G. Lee Bayard, Columbus, Ga.; F. Eugene Hester, Raleigh, N. C.; John M. Tinsley, Livingston; Charles E. Beaty, Forest Park, Ga.; James A. Windham, Rockaway, N. J.; Legare Hairston, Monroeville; Homer L. Hammett, Byron, Ga.; Kenneth E. Conaway, Milledgeville, Ga.; Patricia Anne Morgan, Birmingham; Joyce Tollerson, Thomaston, Ga.; George T. Kilgore, Columbia, S. C.; Lt. and Mrs. Titus Julian Street (Patricia Nachlinger '61), Amarillo, Tex.; Robert A. Griffin, Port Sulphur, La.